Progressive Agriculture Safety Days reach 250 Grundy County youth

GRUNDY CENTER — The annual Progressive Agriculture Safety Day hosted by Grundy County Extension and Outreach 4-H Program was held Tuesday, May 6 at the Grundy County Fairgrounds

Youth from BCLUW, Dike-New Hartford, AGWSR, Timothy Christian, Gladbrook-Reinbeck and Grundy Center attended 11 safety sessions during the school day. Community partners helped teach sessions on chemicals, tractor and semi visibility, rural health, drug awareness, lawn mower safety, electricity, first aid, gun and outdoor safety, grain bin, fire and sun safety topics.

The event is not a typical day in the classroom for students and teachers. Participants get a chance to do some hands-on activities, walk to sessions around the fairgrounds and enjoy the outdoors. For some youth, this is the first time they get an up close look inside and out of a tractor or semi and learn more about visibil-ity awareness, or get a chance to see what can happen when something like a kite hits a power line.

"I enjoy working with the Progressive Agriculture Safety Day Foundation," said Grundy County 4-H and Youth Coordinator Andrea Traeger, who coordinates the event. "They care about the safety of our youth and the importance of safety education. The support they provide to each Progressive Agriculture Safety Day across the United States and Canada is tremendous!"

Each of the presenters has taken time to add their own touch to their session, making it just as much fun for them as it was for the kids. Monsanto has committed four to five vol-unteers to help teach chemical and grain bin safety sessions. They have been a part of safety day for 11 years. There are years in the past that they have also donated time to helping set up for the event moving chairs and tables to each location. The commit-ment that Monsanto has made to our event is invaluable!

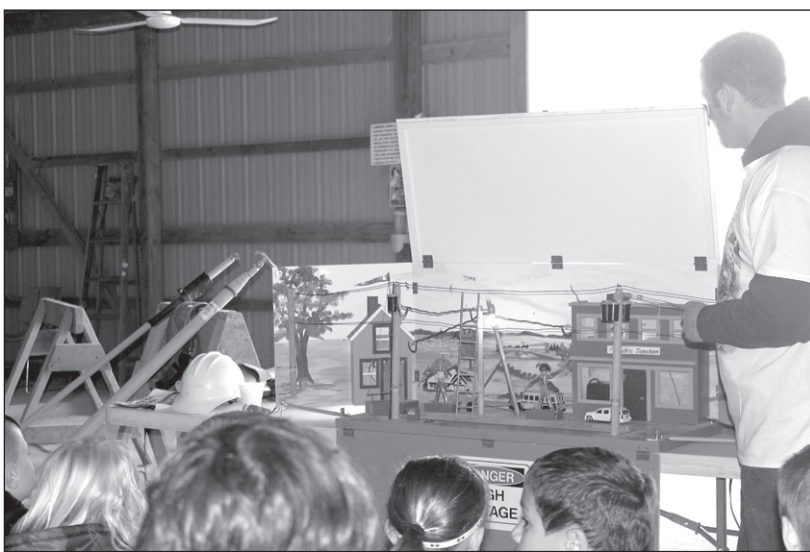

At the end of the day everyone takes a moment to fill out evaluation forms that ask them about what the most important things they learned are, what they are going to do to be safer at home or on a farm, what class they liked the most, why they liked it and what they would change

Youth get an opportunity to see what it is like to wear a firemen suit at the end of the fire safety session.

Youth had a chance to see how hard it would be to rescue someone from a grain bin with our Grain Bin demonstration presented by Monsanto.

Grundy County REC presented electrical safety.
