Grundy Center kicks off Homecoming Week

By MICHAELA KENDALL

The Grundy Register GRUNDY CENTER - The Spartans kicked off Homecoming Week on Sunday with an afternoon full of fun and festivities for the whole community.

Students gathered for the annual parade, which brought them to the courthouse lawn, where the community then joined staff and students for a pep rally, as well as the court announcement.

This year's Grundy Center High School Homecoming Court includes: Brooke Flater, Sarah Lindeman, Cora Saak, Hailey Wallis and Reegan Zinkula as Queen Candidates, and Tanner Appel, Austin Knaack, Travis Kuester, Caleb Kuiper and Matthew Sternhagen as King Candidates.

The coronation ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, October 13, at the High School Gym.

Other events throughout the week include several "Spirit Days" where students can dress in costume. Monday was Hippie Day; Tuesday was Superhero Day; Wednesday is Pajama Day; Thursday is Class Color Day; and Friday is Spartan Spirit Day.

Throughout the day on Friday, there will be lip sync battles, powderpuff football and other festivities around the school. All of this leads up to the big game starting at 7 p.m. on Friday night, where the Grundy Center Spartans will face off against the Mason City Newman Knights.

Afterwards, Spartans will celebrate with the annual Homecoming Dance at the High School Commons on Friday night starting at 9 p.m.

MORRISON - Walking into Mindy Greany's new shop, "The Rusty Nail" in Morrison, is like walking into a Pinterest board filled with every sort of handmade, seasonal decor and gift item you could imagine.

Greany, a resident of Grundy Center, says she's always had a creative side and loved building things, but she never imagined she'd own her own shop.

"It started a few years ago when I started making these handmade, wooden signs," she said. "I would just sell them locally and through Facebook, and they were pretty popular. I never, ever thought I'd own my own shop, but this building came up for sale for the right price, so we jumped in."

"We gutted the whole place, and did everything in here ourselves," Greany said. "We wanted to open at the beginning of spring, but our first official day in business was June 6th."

Supervisors approve substantial completion of annex building By ROBERT MAHARRY without any new money coming

The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER- The Grundy County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to approve an acknowledgement of substantial completion at the new annex building in Grundy Center during Monday morning's regular meeting, bringing a long and at times frustrating process to a close.

"Some things, you've just got to live with," Supervisor Harlyn Riekena said.

County Auditor Rhonda Deters reported that she was still waiting to hear from Jacob Bauer of AHTS Architects on the roof.

After attending a recent Grundy County Memorial Hospital (GCMH) board meeting, Supervisor Barb Smith said that the organization recently received another clean audit and currently has enough cash on hand to operate for 224 days in, well above both the state and national averages.

She also provided a list of county hospitals across Iowa and how much they've levied in taxes, noting that because GCMH is a veteran's memorial hospital, it does not have that authority. The total annual tax levies varied from $430,000 in Buena Vista County to nearly $4 million in Story County, and the board of supervisors in Grundy County approved a $100,000 grant to the hospital in its most recent budget.

According to Smith, longterm care leaving the hospital has been positive for the bottom line, and new President Adam Scherling has done well in replacing former President/CEO Jennifer Havens.

"We had another good year and I'm optimistic that under development approach

By MICHAELA KENDALL The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER - With the resignation of Grundy Center Chamber of Commerce Director Laura Cahalan last month, the Grundy Center City Council is hoping to take a closer look at how they can better focus on economic development for the City as a whole.

During a council work session on Monday night, Mayor Al Kiewiet said the city is at a crossroads, and that it's a good time to re-evaluate their approach to economic development, including how the Chamber, Main Street and other entities tie into that goal.

"In the past, we've discussed adding another position at City Hall," he said. "We need another body at City Hall to help sell Grundy Center and do economic development for the community as a whole, and to help [City Clerk] Kristy [Sawyer] with certain duties like working with grants for projects. I wanted to see what the council's thoughts are moving forward."

Kiewiet says he believes adding a position with benefits through the city could help with turnover. On the flip side, he mentioned not wanting to have duplicated work between the chamber/economic development person and the Main Street Grundy Center program.

"Right now, I think we have a stronger Main Street program than Chamber program, but at the same time I think we need to make sure the city as a whole grows and try to invest in that," he said. "The question has come up about if the Main Street Director could become a city employee, but even if we did that and paid the salary out of the city budget, Main Street Iowa would continue to have supervisory authority over that position." Council member Dave Stefl noted that several communities, including Conrad, have joint Chamber and Main Street pro-

Since the city already pays out to the Main Street Grundy Center Director position, he suggested the possibility of adding additional hours and duties for the position.

Kiewiet agreed that could be an option, but it still doesn't solve the need for extra help at City Hall, or the fact that the city would pay the position but not have supervisory control over it, as the supervisory control would have to stay with Main Street

"Right now we have three people at City Hall, if someone's out sick or on a call or on vacation, it leaves a lot of work for the other two people to cover," he said, adding that already, City Clerk Kristy Sawyer has her hands full with City Clerk duties, has been beneficial in kickstarton top of preparing grant info for the facade and upper story housing renovation projects, while acting as a liaison between business owners, the city and other

Sawyer says Deputy Clerk Kendra Lufkin is also very busy with her position as director of the Community Center, as well as her Deputy Clerk duties.

Kiewiet says his main concern with turning the MSGC director position into a joint Chamber/Economic Development and Main Street position would be that the city would not have supervisory control over the position, and that he would like the economic development position to focus more on the entire city, rather than just the designated downtown Main Street district.

"My opinion is that improving Main Street will not necessarily grow the town, but growth to the community as a whole will provide growth to our main street," he said. "If you look at Grundy Center's growth and expansion over the last 10 years, the expansion hasn't been as much on Main Street; it's been on the outskirts of town and outside of that district. My question is, just looking at the dollars and cents side of things, do we feel like could get better return on our investment by doing it ourselves and trying to rally the community together ourselves, or do we subcontract it out and you lose all control of what decisions may or may not take place."

Council member Dave Stefl argued that he can see both sides to the discussion.

"I think what Al said is true, however I think we still really need the Main Street program through the state," he said. "Maybe we would've got facade grant if we weren't a Main Street community, and maybe we wouldn't have, we don't know. But if you look across Iowa, the majority of restoration projects in downtown districts have been in Main Street communities. The program was a catalyst. People downtown that were concerned with economic growth really feel a lot of excitement because of the Main Street program and what they've started here. That's not to say we maybe wouldn't have done these projects, but I feel that Main Street has been a catalyst and people feel more secure as a part of it going forward. They have a network and connections; they're in the know about what new grants and programs are going on at the state level. How is someone in Grundy Center supposed to know what's going on in Des Moines and what new grants are becoming available?"

Council member Janetta Miller agreed that Main Street

ing projects.

"I think it's important to have a strong main street, and Main Street has been a catalyst to get these projects going," she said. 'We never had a role with the city where someone is looking for grants to get projects rolling. But I think Main Street and an economic development program would be a little at odds because Main Street is strictly focused on Main Street; how can they take on another position when the downtown area is supposed to be their number one focus?"

Stefl agreed that even though restoration projects downtown won't necessarily mean a new business moving to Grundy Center, it's still important.

"I agree with Al that news businesses aren't coming downtown but rather to the outskirts of town, but people say as soon as a school goes, the community goes, and I think that's the same idea for a downtown district; if we don't have a strong core in downtown, then I feel like the town will deteriorate, honestly," Stefl said. "Truthfully, I felt like we were sliding away before, but I think Main Street has helped that. If you look at pure dollar and cents, maybe it's not tangible and maybe you don't see what you're getting for value, but maybe it's helping you a whole lot more than you know. You can't put a tangible return on all things in life. I think it's quite a good value."

Kiewiet says that he agrees the Main Street Iowa network is a benefit to the city in finding new grants and programs: "But is that part of being in the Main Street Iowa program or is that just the MSGC director doing a great job to get that work done and bring that info to the city? If that person was in the same position without a Main Street Iowa title, would we get the same benefit? Do we throw away a network of possible info [through Main Street Iowa] for the ability to have a little more local control? It's a tough call.'

Council members Stefl, Miller and Hamann each agreed that they see the value in the Main Street program, but they also would like to talk to members of the [MSGC] board of directors, as well as other economic development entities such as INR-COG and the Butler Grundy Development Alliance to get more information on the best approach to economic development for the city moving forward.

Kiewiet agreed that the council should reach out to those entities to see if they would be willing to come to the next council meeting to discuss economic development and possible partnerships.

Guided walking tour will take visitors on a journey through

GC's past by michaela kendall

The Grundy Register GRUNDY CENTER - Get ready to be transported to a different era. This Thursday, community members will have the chance to take a walk into Grundy Center's past during a brand new event: "Spirits of Downtown

The event, which is sponsored by Main Street Grundy Center, will consist of a guided walking tour through downtown Grundy Center, focusing on five wellknown businesses during the 1950s. The walk will feature local actors portraying the likeness of these five business owners, and will tell the story of what it was like to live, work and play in Grundy Center nearly 70 years

"We focused on key businesses and business owners from the downtown of the 1950s," says Cindy VanWert, who researched and planned Spirits of Downtown Past with committee members Sandy Noble and Kathy Zeiner. "This era was an exciting time in the town's history. Many new businesses were opened in the years after World War II. Baby Boomers were born and were starting school. A collection of new entrepreneurs was meeting the needs of expanding families and the farm community- by offering clothing and variety stores, entertainment, and eating options in downtown Grundy Center."

The walking tour will focus on the following five businesses from the 50s: Dudden's Men's Clothing Store, the Center Theatre, the Popcorn Stand, Feller's Variety Store, Farmer's Savings Bank and Don's Tire and Appli-

Community interviews, library research, and local historical collections provided the information for the scripts.

Tickets are needed for the walking tour. Ticket holders will be grouped into small groups, and will walk together among the five locations to hear the historic stories. A limited number of tickets are being sold, and are available from City Hall, at the Grundy Center Historical Society Museum on October 3rd through 5th, and online from mainstreetgrundycenter.com

Proceeds will be used for future programs and promotion efforts to boost Main Street Grundy Center efforts on behalf of the community.

After the walking tour, community members will be treated to a 50s and 60s music concert from Smitty and Nuala, performed on the gazebo, as well as a Classic Car Show around the Main Street Grundy Center Director Lisa Bienfang invites the community out to a fun evening in Grundy Center, and a walk down memory lane.

"Our community is rich with architecture and stories of ordinary people who led extraordinary lives," she said. "Main Street Grundy Center is proud to help tell these stories and connect them with the beautiful buildings we are fortunate to have in our downtown. The volunteer committee has worked so hard to put together a fun and educational event for all ages to enjoy. Main Street's mission is economic development through historic preservation - with the historic walking tour, the car show, entertainment and food on the courthouse square, and shops open late; we bring lots of people downtown and build pride in our wonderful community."

Democrats protest Grassleys near New Hartford

By BETHANY CARSON

Mid-America Publishing NEW HARTFORD- "Hey, hey, ho, ho, Chuck Grassley's got to go," protestors chanted in front of the U.S. Senator's rural New Hartford home Saturday morn-

While Representative Steve King characterized Grassley as brave Horatius at the gate defending Rome at a meeting of the Butler County Republicans in Clarksville Saturday night, Butler County Democrats at the protest expressed a far different opinion of his work as chair of the judicial committee.

Nearly 20 marched the two miles from Chuck Grassley's home to the residence of his grandson, State Representative Pat Grassley.

"We're here to hold Senator Grassley accountable, and also his grandson Pat Grassley," one protestor said. "They're both in this together, intent on destroying government both in Washington and in Des Moines."

Protestors carried signs with a variety of messages. Some urged Grassley to find his moral center. Others urged voters to remember Merrick Garland, and one called Christine Blasey Ford a hero. Another called for Grassley's retire-

"Chuck Grassley is unqualified to head judiciary. Resign now!" one sign read.

Pat Grassley drew ire for allegedly "destroying Medicaid, education, worker's comp, collective bargaining, IPERS and Iowa's budget surplus, one law at a time." Democrats consider it unfair that Grassley would not allow a hearing for President Obama's nominee Merrick Garland, but now is apparently rushing the nomination of Brett Kavanaugh before the midterm elections.

"Since Chuck happens to live close to us, we can at least stand outside of his house and show our support for the women who are coming out against his nominee, and also to show our displeasure with not even giving Merrick Garland a chance," said Jerry Hageman of the Black Hawk County Democrats.

Hamilton of Cedar Falls. "I really do not want to see somebody put on the Supreme Court that has a history of abusing women."

Butler County Democratic chair David Mansheim did not mince words in criticizing Grassley, the third most senior member of the senate.

"I know Chuck Grassley isn't a member of NOW, the National Organization of Women," Mansheim said. "What I didn't realize is that he's a member of THEN, Thick-Headed Egotistical Neanderthals."

Some of the protestors hinted that former Congressman Bruce Braley, the Waterloo Democrat who unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. Senate against Joni Ernst in 2014, may have been right when he infamously warned in 2014 against having a farmer from Iowa who never went to law school as the next chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"If they're going to pass laws, they should have a law degree," one protestor said.

Another remarked that the judiciary committee should at least be led by someone with a law degree. Yet another countered that having some compassion and a moral compass would be suffi-

"He should resign from the chairmanship of the judiciary. He's clearly unqualified," said Mansheim. "I think Bruce Braley was right."

One protestor from out of state, visiting a friend in New Hartford, felt protesting Grassley was a good thing to do.

"I'm a Democrat, you know, so I'm for equal rights, gay rights and pro-choice, so I fill like this is a good fit," said Olivia Rochelle from San Diego.

Protestors said Grassley is not representing them and instead adhering to partisanship.

"He used to be a really good senator, and now he's just turned into a political hack," Bob Morgan of Cedar Falls said. "He'll do whatever the party tells him

Linda Morgan agreed.

"This is all about Chuck Grassley not being for the people of Iowa and Pat Grassley, total party line," Linda Morgan said. "Pat Grassley never votes outside of the party either. He doesn't have a mind of his own.'

"We're just really upset with Chuck Grassley over this whole Kavanaugh situation and how he's just so stubborn about trying to push forward with this," Joshua Norton of New Hartford said. "We wanted to get out here and really protest him, and the fact that Pat Grassley lives pretty close by is a cool opportunity to highlight that we have two Grassleys who are really messing with things right now.'

Dennis Evans, a Reinbeck Democrat running against Pat Grassley this November, was at the protest, not specifically to protest the Grassleys, but to offer an alternative.

"To be honest, I don't have anything against Pat at all. It's just we have totally different philosophies of what our debt is to society and what we owe our society..." Evans said. "I'm not protesting the Grassleys. My focus is the issue of what's going on with the Supreme Court process. I'm glad to see that they have given the FBI a week to do research. That is what I think needed to be

He expressed optimism about the upcoming election.

"I'm excited. I've been knocking on doors and meeting people in the district, and I've found that they're friendly. They're open, and it's been interesting hearing their stories..." Evans said. "I would appreciate them considering me. I realize that my name isn't as well-known as the Grassley name. I do have something to offer. I would listen to them."

Protestor Bill Close of New Hartford admitted to voting for Chuck Grassley at one time, but he no longer feels that the 85-year-old Senator is a force for good in Washington, D.C.

"At one point in time I felt that Chuck Grassley represented all the citizens of Iowa. I even voted for him once. And I was always kind of proud of the way that Tom Harkin and Chuck Grassley could work together for the benefit of Iowans," Close said. "And then something happened to Senator Grassley. I think he's gone over to the dark side. He's become controlled by the party, not by his conscience, and I find that very disappointing. I expect more from my senator than strict party lines no matter what."

The consensus at the Grundy County Sheriff's office is that being tasered is not fun. Recently, all officers had to experience the shocking sensation to become certified to carry the non-lethal weapon. The department ordered the Tasers in June, but training did not take place until September. Fully certified, the officers now have another choice during altercations or if a perpetrator resists arrest. Chief Deputy Tim Wolthoff said Tasers are a good non-lethal tool to use, a safe alternative to a night-stick, a chemical, or hand-to-hand combat. "Lately, certain individuals have wanted to challenge our authority," Wolthoff said. Wolthoff said just before they started using Tasers, an altercation occurred at Scotty's Saloon in Grundy Center, where an intoxicated individual assaulted a Grundy Center police officer after the officer used pepper spray on him. "With Tasers, there would have been no fight," he said. "It would have kept the perp from further injuring himself, police officers or others." Deputy Sheriff Josh Ritchey added, "Using them is going to solve problems. People who normally would have fought come peacefully. You're getting results just by them seeing it [the Taser]." The Taser X26 (the model Grundy County officers use) deploys two probes from a cartridge, with one-inch long needles on the end attached to the Taser at all times by conductive wires. The Taser is shot using compressed nitrogen and is accurate up to a distance of 35 feet. According to taser.com, the projectiles, once shot into the perpetrator, transmit electrical pulses affecting the sensory and motor functions of the nervous of 30,000 volts of electricity. 25 Years Ago This Week - 1993

Mr. Bruce Huber, Grundy Center teacher, was named Outstanding Teacher for the State of Iowa for 1993. The honor is awarded annually by the Public School Support Committee to one public school teacher. This is the third year of the award. The award was presented by the Masons at the 149th Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Iowa A.F. & A.M. on Thursday, September 16, at the Des Moines Scottish Rite Temple. Edwin D. Blinks, Grandmaster of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, made the presentation to Huber.

The Grundy Center City Council met in special session Friday afternoon and unanimously approved the rezoning of a lot located in Mossman Heights Addition owned by Robert and Dorothy Clark. The lot has been the subject of controversy since February of this year when neighboring property owners objected to the rezoning. The council was to have voted on a rezoning resolution but was prevented from doing so when a neighboring property owner, Gerald Curren, filed an injunction against the city. A hearing was held September 21 with Curren, his attorney Kirby Schmidt, and the city's attorney Mike Smith appearing before Judge William Klotzbach. Judge Klotzbach later ruled that the temporary injunction be dissolved. The original Writ of Mandamus Curren filed is still in effect. A trial date for the lawsuit has not yet been set. The new ordinance approved Friday hinges on the condition that the building currently sitting on the lot be used ONLY for storage. Present for the vote were Mossman Heights residents Joel and Marsha Patterson, Nancy Wolthoff, Berniece Blythe and Kevin Kuester. Following the vote, Kuester, chairman of the Board of Adjustment resigned his-position stating, "Due to the total disregard for the zoning ordinances adopted by the City council of Grundy Center, I hereby resign from the GC appeals board."

James Wheeler from Grundy Center died at an army hospital in Anchorage, Alaska, last Monday following a n operation for ulcers of the stomach. He was 44 years old. Mr. Wheeler left for Alaska only a week before his death. He had expected to go to work there on a government project. He was employed by the Miller Construction Company of Waterloo and he left here for that place with employees of that company. He went to Seattle by train and from there to Anchorage by plane. It is believed that he was taken sick while he was on the plane and that he was taken to the hospital immediately after arriving at his destination and the operation took place shortly after. As far as his family know, he had never been troubled with stomach ulcers before. He was given the best of care at the hospital. He was given blood transfusions and blood plasma. The family expect a letter giving details of his illness and death. The body will be sent to Grundy Center for burial. It will take about a month for it to reach here.

Mrs. Bert Harrenstein of Grundy Center has received word from her husband, T/Sgt. Albertus Harrenstein, that he has arrived safely In England. He Is attached to the Second Air Force. OPINION

After three years of acrimony, hard feelings and fear that this separation would ultimately end in divorce, all it took were multiple accusations of sexual assault and misconduct against altar boy, carpool dad and living embodiment of the D.C. elite Brett Kavanaugh to finally reunite #NeverTrump conservatives and the MAGA universe. Now, can't we just leave the poor guy alone?

Only three people know whether the alleged assault that Dr. Christine Blasey Ford described during her testimony last Thursday is actually true, and one of them is quarantined in a Delaware beach house reading "Superman" comics. The punch lines write themselves.

By ROB MAHARRY

And Democrats have made it quite apparent that their long game is to stall this for as long as possible, reclaim the Senate in the midterm (just like they were going to win the presidency two years ago and finally appoint Merrick Garland) and bury Kavanaugh once and for all as a tribute to the Goddess of Politics Hillary Clinton, whose loss had everything to do with Russian Facebook trolls and absolutely nothing to do with the fact that she was too arrogant to campaign in crucial blue-collar swing states like Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa in the run-up to November 8, 2016, or offer anything other than vapid platitudes and "I'm not Donald Trump" as reasons she deserved to be elected.

Plenty of other valid criticisms of the Supreme Court nominee had been aired—that he was obsessed with the death of Vince Foster and the conspiracy theories surrounding it, that he was heavily involved in the Ken Starr investigation of Bill Clinton and wrote of sending a message to the former president about his immorality. that he likely possessed hacked and stolen information during his time as a Bush appointee and that his mysterious six-figure "baseball ticket" debts suddenly disappeared—but those details were unlikely to have any meaningful sway on the vote and certainly would not grind the entire process to a screeching halt.

Dr. Ford held her own on the stand, and Judge Kavanaugh unequivocally denied that anything untoward happened while screaming the words "farce," "mockery" and "outrage" between heavy gasps. Mark Judge was nowhere to be found, and Donald Trump Jr. was busy utilizing all of the best memes at his disposal.

We were right back at square one with no smoking gun, no new evidence and nothing to sway anyone from previously held positions. Even the supposed panacea of an FBI investigation would still ultimately leave us to decide between the accounts of two individuals—one of whom is lying—about events that may or may not have transpired 35 years ago.

The most vocal #NeverTrump Republican Senator, Jeff Flake, in perhaps the ultimate indication that Mom and Dad were getting back together, publicly proclaimed he'd vote yes on Kavanaugh and cemented his legacy as the man liberals will curse every morning, afternoon and evening until they croak—that is, until he changed course again upon being harangued by a gaggle of protesters and asked that the FBI get one more week to drag this circus on and absolve Congress of responsibility for whatever ends up happening.

But nevertheless, the judge likely now has his lifetime appointment, and he'll rule the way conservatives—both those who gleefully embrace President Trump's combative culture war mindset (best summarized by Travis Bickle's plea to Charles Palantine in Taxi Driver"— "The President should just clean up this whole mess here and flush it down the toilet") and those who held their noses and voted for him in spite of it—want him to, because when you get down to the particulars, their differences are confined to style much more than substance.

Conservatism, once on the verge of a cataclysmic fracture between the National Review globalists and the Breitbart nationalists, is experiencing a unifying moment, and if I were to place bets, I'd wager that this bizarre spectacle will actually help the Republican party in November. Without an automatic game changer like 9/11, the financial collapse of 2008 or a declared war to rally his supporters around, President Trump has done a better job than any of his predecessors in constantly engaging and firing up the base, and even his most avowed detractors could admit that.

Dr. Ford will (hopefully) be allowed to return to private life if she so chooses, or maybe she'll use her newfound platform to serve as an advocate for victims. That's up to her. Judge Kavanaugh, an avatar of the "Swamp" that Trump campaigned against, may face personal discomfort and rejection, but these allegations will fade away as public outrage finds a new target. After all, Clarence Thomas is still on the court 27 years later.

Children-and adults-will continually be taught to believe women, but only if the man they're accusing has disagreeable political opinions—and, if that tactic fails, to resort to Whataboutism.

And the world will keep spinning, for now at least. After the great Garland fiasco of 2016, we should've known this would be a bloodbath, but even so, it was difficult to predict the level of pure vitriol Kavanaugh would have to endure to ensure that the right wing in this country could finally get its rubber stamp.

All's fair in love and Supreme Court nominations, I suppose.

Letter to the editor

Whether you are a Wolverine, a Spartan, a Rebel, a Comet, a Falcon, a Cougar or any other school, pride runs deep in the blood of those who identify with the public schools in those communities. It doesn't matter if it is music, sports, drama, clubs or organizations; students, parents and the community in general love their public schools and the pride it brings to those communities.

Election day is approaching. What does pride in our public school have to do with Election Day? Well, there is a "sleeping giant" in our state legislature that needs to be monitored. Work has been done in the past year in the Iowa Senate/House on a study bill entitled Iowa Student Opportunity Act #3206. This study bill should raise red flags to many taxpayers across the state. The study bill, I believe, was so named so that taxpayers would not realize that it is a bill that would introduce vouchers to our state. Basically such a bill would give parents, wishing to participate, a dollar amount ($4-5,000 per year) to be put in a student account (starting in Kindergarten). The student could "spend" it on parochial schools, charter, online schools or other educational activities approved by an oversight committee. I personally do not have a problem with students choosing to attend parochial or charter school with parents choosing to pay their tuition. That is their choice.

I do have a problem spending my tax dollars so that students can attend those schools, taking money or reducing the funding to our public schools that are already financially strapped. It needs to be noted that public schools serve the needs of ALL students whereas parochial or charter schools are selective in their student population. Under the current administration, money for education has not been a priority and our public schools (as well as colleges and universities) have been underfunded. Implementing a voucher system in Iowa's elementary and secondary schools would further negatively impact our public school funding.

The voucher system is supported by the Iowa Catholic Conference, Iowa Assn. of Christian Schools, Americans for Prosperity (a Koch Bros. organization) and the Republican party. This voucher system idea is opposed by the Iowa Assn. of School Boards, ISEA, AFSCME, Des Moines Public Schools, ACLU, One Iowa and the Democratic Party. When casting your vote November 6, remember the importance of keeping our public schools strong. Candidates who will support public education and oppose vouchers include Tracy Freese (a Dike-New Hartford Wolverine) and Dennis Evans (a Gladbrook-Reinbeck Rebel).

In the tradition of Amblin Pictures where fantastical events occur in the most unexpected places, Jack Black and 2-time Crusade where she finds faith Academy Award-winner Cate Blanchett star in The House With A Clock In It's Walls. The magical adventure tells the tale of 10-year-old Lewis (Owen Vaccaro) who goes to live with his uncle in a creaky old house with a mysterious tick-tocking clock. But his new town's sleepy facade jolts to life with a secret world of warlocks and witches when Lewis accidentally awakens. The family movie The House With A Clock In It's Walls is based on the beloved children's classic written by John Bellairs and illustrated by Edward Gorey.

When the war ended, his battle began. Based on Laura Hillenbrand's bestselling book, Unbroken: Path To Redemption begins where the hit movie Unbroken concludes, sharing the next amazing chapter of Olympian and World War II hero Louis Zamperini's powerful true story of forgiveness, redemption, and amazing grace. Haunted by nightmares of his torment, Louie (Samuel Hunt) sees himself as anything but a hero. Then he meets Cynthia (Merritt Patterson), a young woman who captures his eye - and his heart. Louie's destructive behaviors drives him deeper into despair, putting the couple on the brink of divorce. Until Cynthia experiences Billy Graham's 1949 Los Angeles in God and a renewed commitment to her marriage and her husband. Now, her most fervent prayer is for God to help Louie find the peace and forgiveness he so desperately needs.

thank you

We have said and written the words, thank you, so many times that we are overwhelmed by such kindnesses. As we wrote thank you notes, we talked about all the people who knew Leo. Usually there was a Leo story to go with the memorials, be they money, food, cards or kind words. We reminisced about each person, who they were, how they knew Leo and were they parents of kids our kids went to school with, or were they relatives, teachers, neighbors, long time friends or new ones? How a man could know and impress so many people is simply amazing.

So once again we say thank you with sincere hope we didn't forget anyone who made this journey less painful.

Emerald Ash Borer

informational class to be held

The emerald ash borer, a destructive insect that attacks and kills ash trees, has been detected for the first time in Grundy County. There are now 65 counties in Iowa with confirmed infestations.

Insect samples were collected from a city-owned tree in Dike after an Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship worker noticed ash trees showing the signs of a tree under attack. The collected samples were positively identified as EAB by a federal identifier. The beetle can fly only short distances. There is also the ever-present risk of spreading EAB and other tree-killing pests through human transport of firewood. EAB-infested ash trees can include sparse foliage or thinning of the canopy, excessive sprouting of epicormic shoots from the trunk or main branches, increased woodpecker activity, serpentine ("S"-shaped) galleries under the bark, vertical bark splitting, and 1/8 inch D-shaped emergence holes.

Grundy County Extension and Outreach will host an informational meeting concerning the presence of Emerald Ash Borer (EAB), an exotic, destructive insect of ash trees. Participants will learn how to identify EAB, how to identify an ash tree, signs of an EAB infestation, treatment options and tree replacement options. This program is free to the public and will be presented by Patty Reisinger, Trees Forever, and Mike Kintner, Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship. Class will be held at the ISU Grundy County Extension & Outreach Office, 703 F Avenue, Suite 1, Grundy Center on October 3 at

Hardin County Life Chain next Sunday

The Hardin County Life Chain will hold its annual event on Sunday, October 7, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in front of the Hardin County Courthouse in Eldora.

This date is National Life Chain Sunday, and it is expected that about 1,950 Life Chains will be forming in about 1,600 communities throughout the United States and Canada. Iowa has over 30 chains scheduled to be held.

Life Chains are peaceful witnesses reminding people that life is a gift from God from conception on. Life Chains also support life choices such as adoption for those facing problem pregnancies.

Life Chain participants are furnished a variety of signs with these messages. They will line the sidewalks along Highway 175 for as far as there are supporters.

This will be the 27th time a Life Chain has formed in Hardin County. More information can be obtained by contacting Ken Nason at 641-864-3597.

NEWS

Wendy Pena
Wendy R. (Venenga) Peña loving wife, sister, and mother of three went to be with the Lord on September 24, 2018. Visitation was held September 26 at the Engelkes-Abels Funeral Home in Grundy Center. A funeral service was held September 27 at the Colfax Center Presbyterian Church in rural Holland. Burial followed at the church cemetery. Online condolences may be left at www.abelsfuneralhomes.com.

Wendy was born on January 28, 1967, to Wendell and Norma Venenga of Aplington.

Wendy worked in the healthcare field for 30 years doing what she did best, taking care of people. She started her career at the Presbyterian Home in Ackley and finished her career at the Iowa Veteran's Home in Marshalltown. She touched everyone's lives she came in contact with and made many friends along the way.

Wendy had two passions in life. The first was taking care of people and animals. Wendy had a special ability to get people to come together and enjoy each other's presence. In these occasions you would often see a dog or two in her lap. She was the happiest if she managed to get all three of her sons under the same roof. She loved the holidays and having the whole family together especially when her first granddaughter arrived.

The second was sharing the good news of Christ and expressing her faith. She always made you feel welcome and put other's needs in front of hers because Jesus first did that for us. Wendy had so much joy when she was able to bless others by spending time or sending gifts to family and friends. She never missed an opportunity to give all thanks and glory to God.

She is survived by her beloved husband, Pepe; her three sons, Landon, Levi, and Lance with his wife Amanda and the cutest granddaughter Alayna; and her sister Sheila and her husband Ian.

Wendy was preceded in death by her father, Wendell, and her mother, Norma.

Marvin Heikens

Marvin Heikens, age 81, of rural Hubbard was pronounced dead October 1, 2018, at Hansen Family Hospital in Iowa Falls. Funeral services for Marvin will be held on Saturday, October 6, at 10:30 am at the Honey Creek New Providence Friends Church in New Providence. Burial will be in the Sheller Cemetery rural Grundy Center. The family will receive friends on Friday, October 5, from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm at the Honey Creek New Providence Friends Church. Memorial contributions may be directed to the family for a memorial fund to be established.

Together 4 Families is a community planning group that focuses on meeting the needs of families with children living in Bremer, Butler, Franklin and Grundy Counties. Together 4 Families is the local community planning group for several statewide initiatives, including Early Childhood Iowa, Decategorization and the Community Partnership for Protecting Children.

Together 4 Families participates in ongoing planning, with a focus on specified areas which include: Safety for children, Permanency, Child and family well-being, Academic preparation and skill development, Offender rehabilitation and Community safety.

For each of those result areas, Together 4 Families identifies Existing services, Gaps in services, Strategies to address the gaps, Key players to be involved and Resources that will be needed.

As a result of the local planning that occurs, we are then able to access some funding through Early Childhood Iowa, Decategorization, and the Community Partnership for Protecting Children to try to fill in the gaps in services and address unmet needs of families with children.

Early Childhood Iowa funding to the local area is over $500,000 annually and has been used to support home visitation services for families with children ages 0-5; child care supports to increase the capacity and quality of child care through child care home con-

Do you remember or have you ever wondered what Grundy Center was like in the late 1940's and the 1950's?

Join us for a walking tour of our downtown district on Thursday, October 11, from 4:30 - 6:30, as historic characters share their stories about a few of our downtown buildings. What was it like in the late 1940's and 1950's! What was it like to see a movie at the Center Theatre then? Who were the movie stars? Do you have a poodle skirt in your closet yet? Where was Farmers Savings Bank first located? What other businesses were in downtown Grundy Center during that era?

Walk back in time as you hear about the Center Theatre, Farmers Savings Bank, Don's Goodyear Store, Dudden's, Feller's, and the Grundy Center Popcorn Stand!

The Dike Bridge Ladies play bridge twice a month on Tuesdays and Thursdays and meet at the Dike Public Library for their 1 o'clock games. Each year we have a special luncheon with one bridge player volunteering to donate a hot main dish with others doing sign up for donating salads and desserts. Reservations were called in and this vear we had 28 ladies playing bridge after enjoying an 11:30 delicious lunch with food fit for the Queen. Fifteen or more salads and relish and rolls. Desserts were plentiful as the table was set with two cakes and several trays of cookies and bars. OH my, no time for a nap because as soon as the chatter quieted and tables cleared, it was time cle for us next week and explain how the donation is being used and also tell about the upcoming October 18th event. Chairman bridge lady Nancy Woodley has reported we have donated $1,415.00 this year. The high scoring player receives a free pass for the next bridge event. The remaining players go home happy to have enjoyed a day of fun with friends.

The Bridge Ladies declared one high score on the September 27th afternoon from a former Dike resident Jean Silver and second place to our Grundy Center friend and player Rosanne Girres. The players get to share 4 hands of play at each table and must use their best skills and bridge talents with each new experienced player. It is a fun time and we look forward to more exciting afternoons with friends who play bridge.

Fire department training

Tim and Stacie Fobian are members of our Dike Fire Department and have volunteered to attend classes at the Kirkwood Fire School. On September 22 they attended three session, each 3.5 hours: Bus Accident Response, Firefighter Rehabilitation and Role of Fire/EMS during Active Threat. Always first action in each situation is to save lives. The programs provide insight into the current best practices in response to each type of emergency. We all pray our responders never have to be called into action. Tim and Stacie bring back valuable training tools for all other department members.

The CITA-Kirkwood Fire School is in partnership between the Central Iowa Training Association and Kirkwood Community College. Dike residents are very pleased and proud and are reassured our volunteers are properly trained and ready to keep our community safe.

Seeking Refuge

"When a foreigner resides among you in your land, do not mistreat them. The foreigner residing among you must be treated as your nativeborn. Love them as yourself, for you were foreigners in Egypt. I am the Lord your God." –Leviticus 19:33-34 NIV ccording to the United Nations High Commissioner

I for Refugees, there were more than 22 million refugees in 2016, the highest number on record. 2017 may turn out to be even worse: according to the Internal Displacement Monitoring Center, some 12 million people fled from violence and almost 19 million were displaced by catastrophic weather events or natural disasters in 2017 but managed to stay in their own countries. How should decent people respond to these unfortunate people seeking refuge? As individuals, there are limits to what we can do, but shouldn't a civilized society try to help them? As a large and wealthy country, we can and probably should do more to help the relatively small number of refugees at our borders, whereas the huge number of refugees coming from the Mid-East and from Africa present an overwhelming problem in Europe. Despite what politicians and demagogues may say about this issue, the Bible is clear on this issue. There are numerous passages that tell us to care for and show kindness to the refugee or foreigner: Leviticus 19:9-10 and 19:33-34, Deuteronomy 10:18-19, Exodus 23:9 and Malachi 3:5 are just a few of many verses that tell us to help the foreigner and the poor and not to oppress them, reminding us that we were all once foreigners ourselves. - Christopher Simon

POSITIVE SHARING: Elementary Principal Mitch Parker shared the PK-8th grade teachers took part in a full day before the school year in-service on Creating Culture-Leader In Me. It was a great way to continue to develop plans for the 2018-19 school year as a Leader In Me school. Mr. Parker said we would continue with much of the same work with our students as last year, as well as adding a few components like a student lighthouse team and a new leadership coordinator – Tiffanie Nederhoff. Our counselor, Megan Bowden will provide support in weekly guidance lessons and the first leadership assembly is scheduled for the final week in September. There are 68 students in new building leadership roles. Students completed a Leader In Me leadership role application and staff reviewed the applications matching students to their new role. The goal is to help develop student's leadership skills. Over $8,000 has been raised to cover 1/2 of the cost of the Leader In Me program, Pk-8th grade as well as for new Comet Leader shirts for our Pk-4th grade students. We are really excited about our community support for the program, and feel it is making a big impact on our students and staff. High School Principal Kristyn Kell shared, in Mrs. Vanderah's chemistry classes, students learned a new way to master the periodic table through playing periodic table battleship. Students were very engaged in the lesson and it was a fun way to learn the periodic table through a game many have played before. In Mrs. Leytham's Ag Leadership class students are working together to complete a task or activity while also being leaders. Students practice their leadership, communication and collaboration soft skills. Mrs. Kell said the high school has completed two leadership lessons - the first was setting goals and the other was learning about integrity. At the high school, they are using Leadership Essentials through Drake, which incorporates the 7 Habits as well as Character Counts. They are great lessons for high school students. Middle School Principal Dirk Borgman's positive sharing included the 5th grade classes had a visitor Shelene Codner IWF Area Resource Specialist, Iowa Department of Natural Resources, who talked about composting. The students are starting a composting project with school lunch waste to learn about decomposition. Mrs. DeBoer's students are doing a great job working in writer's workshop and this past week, students were working on sequencing. Mr. Pieper has been implementing reading workshop in his classes also. Workshop model is based on doing routines and following a logical instructional path to allow students to become better readers. FAST testing is complete with 5th graders having 77% meeting their benchmark level - which is a great place to start the year with them. Mrs. Rhinehart's implementation of the Open Up Resources Illustrative Math program is going great. All students are getting the more advanced parts of the lessons with the use of multiple strategies that are used to help students reach conclusions. The smartboard is being used daily to help students show their understanding.

Manipulatives have been added to help students visualize their learning. SUPERINTENDENT'S COMMENTS: Superintendent Petty gave preliminary enrollment numbers. After the first couple weeks of school, K-12 enrollment compared to last year is down about a dozen students, but the official count day is October 1st. The Board discussed the IASB annual Convention on November 15, 2018

NEXT MEETING: The next regular meeting of the board will be held at 5:00 p.m. on October 22, 2018 at the High School in Conrad

ADJOURNMENT: Meeting was adjourned at 7:40 a.m. Mary Beth Neff, President

Public Notice CITY OF GRUNDY CENTER

A regular session of the Grundy Center City Council was called to order at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, September 24, 2018 in the Council Chambers by Mayor Kiewiet Present: Kuester, Hamann, Grineski and Stefl. Absent: Miller.

Stefl moved and Kuester seconded the approval of the meeting agenda with no conflicts of interest noted. Motion carried four ayes.

Kuester moved and Stefl seconded the consent agenda consisting of: approval of the minutes of the regular session held September 10, 2018; approval to close 7th Street from G to H Avenue on Sunday, September 30, 2018 from 3-8pm for homecoming activities; approval to close 7th Street from G to H Avenue, H Avenue from 7th to 8th Street, and 8th Street from G To H Avenue from 4-8pm on Thursday, October 11, 2018 for Car Show and the Spirits of Downtown Past Historic Walking Tour: approval to set Trick or Treating on Wednesday, October 31, 2018 from 5:30-7:30pm; and approval of a liquor license for Brothers Market, 1400 G Avenue. Motion carried four ayes.

Mayor Kiewiet opened the public forum at 6:32 p.m. No public comments. Forum closed at 6:33pm.

Mayor Kiewiet opened the presentation by Black Hills Energy. Laura Roussell, Summer Wade, and Jason Hilby with Black Hills Energy spoke regarding the upcoming natural gas firing training sesion. This training will occur on October 16, 2018. This training is for our local fire department and all departments that are involved in mutual aid. This is not a public event, participation is by invitation only. Live natural gas fire training involving a very controlled burn will allow the area fire departments to practice.

Hamann moved and Stefl seconded action on the Second Reading of Ordinance 542 - an ordinance to amend parking regulation on 11th Street from L to M Avenue. No discussion. Motion carried four ayes. Hamann moved and Stefl seconded action to suspend the rules to proceed to the Third Reading. Motion carried four ayes. Hamann moved and Stefl seconded action on the Third Reading of Ordinance 542, an ordinance to amend the parking regulation for 11th Street from L to M Avenue to read "No Parking from 8am-4pm on School Days Only". Motion carried four ayes.

Stefl moved and Hamann seconded action on Resolution 2018-60, a resolution awarding a BIG Grant to Jennifer Meyers, owner of Spartan Fitness and Wellness Center at 629 G Avenue for plumbing and electrical upgrades and a back stairway for a second exit. Stefl began the discussion saying the concept and idea was good and met the criteria needed for a BIG Grant. However, Stefl expressed a concern was with who was applying and requested that these types of building upgrade should be applied for by the building owner not the renter. Kiewiet commented that the City is protected by the mortgage lien signed by the building owner and felt that this is something the BIG Grant Committee needs to upgrade a policy and procedure for this program. Motion carried four ayes.

Hamann moved and Stefl seconded action on Resolution 2018-61, a resolution accepting the bids and awarding bid to the lowest bidder for the Downtown witalization CDRG Foreshoe. Bergland + Cram Architect. explained that bids were received and opened on September 13, 2019. There were three bidders: Cornerstone Commercial Contractors, Corning, Iowa - $ 702 723: Renaissance Restoration, Galena, IL - $ 796,400; Cardinal Construction, Waterloo, Iowa - $606,606. Foreshoe explained that these amounts do not included fees and contingency. After adding those fees, there may be an addition $60,000 left in the budget where additional work may be added. Kuester asked if it is common to have this large of difference in the bid amounts. Foreshoe explained it happens, each bidder factures in lots of different variables into their bids. Foreshoe then recommended Cardinal Construction as the lowest bid for this project Kuester moved and Grineski seconded an amended motion to award the bid to Cardinal Construction, Waterloo, Iowa. Kiewiet commented that even though the awarded bid is lower than what we expected, everyone needs to remember that there is a 20% contingency, architect fees, historic review fees in addition to the bid amount. Kiewiet commented that Kristy Sawyer, City Clerk is the main contact for this project, if they receive any public comment or questions to forward them to City Hall. No further discussion, motions carried four ayes.

Stefl moved and Hamann seconded action on Resolution 2018-62, a resolution approving an agreement with Ritland Kuiper Landscape Architects for the George Wilhelm Sports Complex renovation project. This agreement includes a cost of $6900. Kiewiet explained that with the working being completed on the fourth baseball/softball field, there is a need to have professional drawings and plans for the next steps. Kiewiet is recommending this agreement because of the local ties to the community and the great work that they have done in area communities. Kiewiet commented that once these drawings are completed we will have working plan for the project and will be used to work with the Iowa DNR on replacing the REAP land. No further discussion, motion carried four ayes. Hamann moved and Stefl seconded action on Resolution 2018-63, a resolution approving an agreement with AHTS Architects for a feasibility study for the Upper Elementary Building. This agreement includes a cost of $3500. Kiewiet explained he had met with Steve Trost. AHTS Architect, whom had already worked with Grundy Center Preschool and Child Care in the past. Kiewiet commented that this agreement will included detailed drawings and cost estimates for a potential project. No further discussion, motion carried four ayes. Kuester moved and Grineski seconded an approval to set a public hearing for Monday, October 1, 2108 for Ordinance 543, an ordinance to amend the parking regulations for G Avenue 10 minute pickup spot at 725 G Avenue, no parking on south side of M Avenue between 10-12th Streets from 8am-4pm during school days and adding a stop sign at L Avenue and 13th Street. Motion carried four ayes.

GC/G-R wins team titles D-NH XC

By JAKE RYDER The Grundy Register

FAIRBANK - The Grundy Center/Gladbrook-Reinbeck girls and boys cross country teams each won their respective team titles at Thursday's Dunkerton Invite at Wapsie Ridge Golf Course in Fairbank.

The GC/G-R girls squeaked out a team title win with 47 points, two ahead of runner-up Nashua-Plainfield in the fourteam field. Taylor Stahl was the overall winner, completing the course in 19:37.

Cora Saak placed third in 20:21, Lily Ehlers was 12th in 21:24, Shelby Rivera finished 15th in 22:12, a split-second ahead of Sarah Lindeman in 16th rounding out GC/G-R's top five. Lauren Wegmann finished 26th in 24:07 and Haley Hinders ran 24:34 for 28th place.

After Sumner-Fredericksburg outran GC/G-R at the previous week's Spartan Invite, GC/G-R head coach Jackson Anderson knew that the girls would want to look out for the Cougars in Fairbank.

Sumner-Fredericksburg finished third in the team standings with 51 points.

"Cora and Taylor talked before the race about going 1-2, and they came pretty close," GC/G-R head coach Jackson Anderson said. "Stahl got out to a great start and continued to chase after the lead cart all the way through."

Anderson also noted that GC/G-R senior and three-time state qualifier Reegan Zinkula was back competing for the first time since an ankle injury at a meet in Eldora earlier this season, placing third in the junior varsity race.

"She is still getting back into the swing of things," Anderson said. "We are all excited to see her out running again and look forward to her full return."

On the boys side, GC/G-R ran away with the team title, scoring 38 points and placing well ahead of runner-up

Spartans sweep G-R after taking 1st loss

By JAKE RYDER

The Grundy Register GRUNDY CENTER - One loss isn't going to slow down the Grundy Center volleyball

The Class 2A No. 1 Spartans quickly regrouped for Tuesday's clash with 1A No. 12 Gladbrook-Reinbeck, utilizing key scoring runs to dispatch the Rebels in straight sets at Grundy Center High School.

Grundy Center (27-1, 4-0 NICL West) won 25-15, 25-15, 25-11. The Rebels dropped to 19-5 overall and 3-2 in league

After Saturday's loss to 5A first set on a Saari Kuehl kill

No. 7 Dowling Catholic in the but an 11-1 run flipped the semifinals of the Tiger Invitational at Cedar Falls, Grundy Center head coach Lori Willis noted the girls had a chance to regroup and refocus.

"I think they wanted to have a perfect season," Willis said. "But I think they were looking past Dowling because they wanted to play Cedar Falls, and they all admitted it. ... You gotta take it one match at a time, and we talked about making sure we'd be in the moment tonight, ... focusing on the momentum to the Spartans. Grundy Center junior Frannie Brown – second on the team in ace serves with 24 entering Tuesday – was on the service line for a six-point stretch as the Spartans salted away the first game.

G-R took a 10-9 lead in the

'We talked on Saturday that we just need to play for the person next to us and realize that we're doing this for each other, not ourselves," Brown said. "Just gotta treat everyone like family and be loving and caring for everyone."

Hitting errors and serving errors plagued the Rebels in the second game, and the Spartans locked in late with a six-point run to take the 2-0 lead, including kills from Abby Hamann, Emerson Kracht and Kylie Wil-

Grundy Center jumped out to a 9-4 lead in the third set to set the Spartans well on their way to an NICL West sweep and a 63rd-consecutive league victory.

G-R's Saari Kuehl, second in the state in Class 1A with 262 kills entering Tuesday's game, finished with 10 kills and 18 digs for the Rebels, with the Spartans keying in on the big-swinging sophomore.

"We were able to adjust our block a bit to slow Saari down and we funnelled the ball to Kyah [Luhring] and she was doing a great job of digging her," Willis said. "We started serving really aggressive and making them move so we could get them out of system and better predict where they were going with the ball."

Alyssa Morgan added 17 digs for the Rebels and Madison Denny-Weber had 15 assists and two ace serves.

"We knew it'd be an uphill battle, but we wanted to play well," G-R head coach Paula Kelley said. "There were spurts of that where we got something going, got excited, but a good team like Grundy will put you on your heels more than you want."

The Spartans got a big opportunity early in the second quarter when the Redhawks fumbled the ball away near midfield. But Grundy's ensuing drive ended at North Tama's 23-yard line.

Another drive fueled by big plays put the Redhawks in the end zone, with a 48-yard pass play and a 20-yard screen making up the majority of a 77-yard touchdown drive and a 19-17 North Tama lead.

Once again, Grundy Center looked poised to find the end zone once again before halftime, driving right back down to the Redhawks' 1-yard line on third and goal. A false-start penalty pushed the Spartans back, however, and they again had to settle for a Hendricks field goal resulting in a 20-19 Grundy Center lead that could've been much wider.

"We had too many mistakes in the red zone, we weren't scoring touchdowns inside the 10-yard line," Thoren said. "That's the kind of stuff you have to do to win games like this on the road."

Both teams punted on their first drives of the second-half, with Grundy Center able to come up with a stop of their own on North Tama's second drive of the third quarter. The Redhawks drove down to Grundy's 2-yard line on fourth-andgoal, but North Tama blinked lining up for a potential conversion play, a false start that resulted in a Redhawks field goal to push North Tama ahead by two, 22-20, with 5:01 left in the third quarter.

The Spartans couldn't come up with a response with another three-and-out, and this time North Tama pounced.

Fueled by yet another long pass play – a 35-yarder that got North Tama 1st-and-goal at Grundy's 7-yard line, Skyler Staker started the fourth quarter with a bang, rumbling in from 1-yard out. In a crucial moment, Grundy Center blocked the extra-point kick, keeping the deficit at eight points.

Personnel issues pestered the Spartans throughout the second half, though, with Logan Knaack having to step out for a play, Cale Hendricks eventually having to leave the game entirely and Caleb Kuiper getting hobbled up at one point during the final two quarters.

"It also felt like we had to drive the length of the field in the second half and didn't get the short field to do what we wanted, but that's a credit to their defense," Thoren said. "But our kids really played hard and we know our kids always have a chance if they can work hard and they were locked in from the beginning of the game."

The Redhawks just managed to be one step faster. Three plays into Grundy Center's third drive of the second-half, Staker picked off Knaack, running back a 40-yard interception return. While the point after failed once again, Grundy Center was now down 34-20 in the fourth quarter, and without a single first down in the second half.

The Spartans found their response on the next drive, moving 63 yards in a little over two minutes and getting a 6-yard touchdown run from Caleb Kuiper. Without Hendricks, the PAT was unsuccessful, keeping the Spartans down eight points.

North Tama chewed through clock on the next drive, managing two first downs. However, the Spartans got their last, best chance after another Redhawk fumble, taking over on their own 12-yard line.

Grundy Center drove down near midfield, but Knaack was taken down on 3rd-and-2 setting up a long fourth-down shot. Knaack took his chance to try and find Will Grames again, but the pass was broken up and North Tama took over on This time, the Spartans had burn timeouts to slow the Redhawks down, and were able to take over with 16 seconds left in the game and no timeouts. However, two long pass attempts with time expiring were unsuccessful, the last of which intercepted to bring the game to an end.

"I thought our kids played hard throughout the whole game," Thoren said. "We just had too many breakdowns with North Tama finished with nearly 500 yards of total offense, including 313 passing yards. Grundy Center was no slouch with 345 yards of offense, led by Logan Knaack's 137 rushing yards and 74 passing yards. Caleb Kuiper added 18 totes for 85 yards.

Defensively, Jesse Mackie had 12 total stops, including 12 assisted tackles on Friday night. Wes Willis added 7.5 tackles, Austin Knaack made five stops and Tanner Appel, Jensen Clapp, Travis Kuester and Payton McMartin all had 4.5 tackles

Next up is homecoming against Mason City Newman, a non-district test that will prove very helpful for Grundy Center's chances at a playoff spot should top-ranked Hudson run the table.

"I hate to coach against good coaches and good teams," said McDermott, who was the administrator at the time of Thoren's hiring at North Tama, where Thoren spent 13 years teaching and coaching football at various levels, including three seasons as the Redhawks' varsity head coach. "He's a quality individual and a tremendous coach and he always has his teams prepared. ... Fortunately, we came out on top tonight.

For Thoren, who has faced North Tama five times since taking the job at Grundy Center, Friday was still an opportunity to catch up with familiar faces after the final whistle sounded.

"This community has been wonderful to my family and there's a ton of mutual respect there," Thoren said. "These are the kind of games you want to play."

dodged M-D defenders and scored on a 24-yard run on the second play of the second quarter followed later by the Opperman to Guevara TD toss. Penning's two TD runs were set up by a Tanner Weichers' fumble recovery and a mishandled snap on a M-D punt for a 13-yard loss.

AGWSR has scored 234 points in the four district wins with 104 of those in the first quarter.

Cale Culver tiptoed the sideline for a 29-yard touchdown run in the third quarter and in the fourth, the hosts scored on runs of 11 yards by Harms and 46 yards for Filip Anderson.

We still have some hiccups on offense with the penalties, turnovers and missed blocks, but it gives us something to work on. The consistency in our play is good, but not great and we have to find that to get to the next level," said Koop.

Melcher-Dallas found the end zone twice in the fourth quarter and halted the Cougars' string of seven consecutive quarters of shutout ball. Dalton Lovell capped a 70-yard drive with an eight-yard run early in the fourth for the Saints and then rambled 56 yards later.

M-D had 209 total yards with 135 of that coming in the fourth. Lovell rushed for 118 yards on 10 carries and had a 30-yard reception.

The Cougars collected 291 rushing yards to go with 68 passing for 359. Zach Johnson led a balanced ground game with 65 vards on eight tries and Anderson 57, both in clean up six carries and Opperman 46 on four rushes. Opperman was 4-of-8 passing for the 68 with two to Harms for 49. Opperman's 6.5 tackles with five solos was a team-high followed by Culver 5.5, Ruder 4.5 and Harms four. Penning's special team returns helped with the Cougars' short fields, returning four punts for 88 yards and one kickoff for 22.

Koop noted he was proud of the kids to come ready to play and earn the Homecoming win. "With all the stuff with Homecoming I thought the kids did a nice job of staying focused on the game. The kids had a good time, but still got the job done at the end of the week.3

Koop added the Cougars have three foreign exchange students and all three made the district and 2-4 overall.

AGWSR shares the district lead with 4-0 Gladbrook-Reinbeck. "Based on the RPI we are going to have to win the district to make the playoffs and

Warriors whack Comets to spoil homecoming

By ROBERT MAHARRY The Grundy Register

CONRAD - The mistakes piled up for the BCLUW football team against Wapsie Valley on Friday night, and the scoreboard reflected it as the Warriors dominated every aspect of the game in a 53-0 blowout.

We're just so young, and we really played like it tonight," BCLUW coach Anthony Jahr said. "It's tough to win without juniors and seniors. It really is."

Wapsie Valley (5-1, 2-1) racked up over 450 total yards of offense, while the Comets (1-5, 0-3) failed to gain a first down in the first half of their homecoming contest and were held scoreless for the second straight game.

"We didn't mesh. The line didn't block well. We had inexcusable turnovers... That should never happen," Jahr said. "I don't want to take away from Wapsie. They're a very physical and very efficient team, but we're not 53 points worse than them." Sophomore running back Trevor Sauerbrei established himself on the first drive of the game with a handful of key carries before scoring from 10 yards out to make it 6-0 in favor of the Warriors. After a BCLUW three and out, a Wapsie Valley drive derailed by a holding penalty and another brief Comet possession, Blayde Bellis broke away and caught an easy touchdown pass to push the lead to 13-0.

In an indication of what was to come, Comet quarterback Jessie Moore and running back Koty Kruse fumbled the the next drive and gave the ball right back to the Warriors. Sauerbrei scored again, and it was 20-0 after one quarter.

It all went downhill from there. Senior Isaac Buzynski caught two passes for huge gains to set up a nine-yard Brock Beesecher touchdown, and Sauerbrei later hauled in his first receiving score of the night on the next drive. Another run pushed it to 40-0 at halftime, and the continuous clock rule was in effect for all of the second half.

Sophomore Jordan Rubner, who finished with 58 yards and two touchdowns, shined in the second half for Wapsie Valley, and junior Robbie Bolhous relieved Moore for the Comets. Sauerbrei led all rushers with 111 yards, and quarterback Kobe Risse finished 11-of-20 for 169 yards and two touch-

The Comets were held to 74 yards of total offense, with Jack Garber's three receptions for 60 vards pacing the offense. Robbie Boulhous connected with Garber 2 times for 45 yards.

Jack Hughes had five stops for the BCLUW defense, with Koty Kruse notching 4.5 tackles and Evan Engle recording a quarterback sack to go with four total tackles.

Things don't get any easier for the Comets in the next few weeks as they still have to host district contenders East Buchanan on October 5 and North Tama on October 19. They will travel to GMG on October 12.

'We've just got to start exchange on the first play of having some fun. As soon as something bad happens, we just throw in the towel," Jahr said. "I know it's not fun losing 53-0 either, but there are positives. We've got to find those and celebrate each other and have each other's backs. We're just struggling with finding positives, and we've got to keep on getting better."

The Cougars tallied six first half touchdowns and three of the scores were one-play drives. Another six-pointer came on a two play possession along with scores in three plays and four-plays.

The one-play scores came from nine-yards twice on Jaden Penning runs that made the scored 28-0 after one quarter, and then 20 yards with 1:10 showing before the break on a Titan Opperman to Vinny Guevara pass play.

Redhawks hold off Spartans in district clash

By JAKE RYDER The Grundy Register

TRAER - With fans bundled up in the stands, their breaths condensing in the chilly air as they yelled their support for Grundy Center and North Tama on Friday night, a late September game felt more like a first-round playoff game.

The Spartans and Redhawks made some big-time plays on the field, too, but it was North Tama that made the right plays in the right moments, defending their home turf with a 34-26 victory over Grundy Center.

Grundy Center, North Tama and Wapsie Valley now all have one loss in Class A District 7, with undefeated Hudson alone at the top for the time being after winning a non-district game against Saint Ansgar on Friday. Hudson has yet to play Grundy Center or Wapsie Valley.

"I think their big plays, our throwinability to stop them throwing the ball over our heads, was a lot of the difference in the second half," Grundy Center head coach Brent Thoren said. tricky halfback pass move for 'We'd have them 3rd-andlong and let them off the hook way too many times. But their kids made a lot of really good plays."

At the start of the game, it was the Spartans making the big plays, with Logan Knaack running down the North Tama sideline for a 75-yard touchdown on the first play from scrimmage for an early 7-0 lead. North Tama quickly responded with the first of three touchdowns by Tyler Morrison, though the extra-point attempt was no good.

The Spartans drove down the field again on the next possession, getting all the way to North Tama's 3-yard line before the Redhawks beat back GC, holding them to a Cale Hendricks field goal and a 10-6 Grundy Center lead with 7:21 left in the first quarter.

From there, both teams had their first drives end in punts, with North Tama taking over at their own 36-yard line with 1:57 left in the first quarter. The Redhawks unleashed a

54 yards, setting up Morrison's second touchdown of the night and pushing North Tama ahead 13-10 with 1:27 left in the first

"We haven't shown a lot of trick type plays this season," North Tama coach Tom McDermott said. "That pass was a big play for us and we've gotta have those big plays in these types of games.'

The Spartans kept coming, and wouldn't be denied right before the end of the first quarter, where Logan Knaack lifted a 23-yard pass to Will Grames, who fell down in the end zone as he came down with the catch, and a Hendricks extra point pushed Grundy Center ahead 17-13 at the end of the

"We knew how good [Logan Knaack] was," McDermott said, "and he was as good as we thought he'd be. ... We really had to emphasize what we had to do as far as run assignments [in the second
