'Blank Stares'

Stout-native country singer shares song about mom's battle with Alzheimer's

By MICHAELA KENDALL
The Grundy Register

STOUT – Up-and-coming country singer Jay Allen – a 2004 Dike-New Hartford graduate and native of Stout who's pursuing a music career in Nashville – has been making headlines recently with his new song: "Blank Stares."

In his poignant and emotionally stirring new song, Allen shares the story of his mother, Sherry Rich, who is in the late stages of her battle with early onset Alzheimer's Disease.

The song begins with a loving voicemail Sherry left on her son's phone, which trails off as she forgets, hanging up only moments later.

In a phone interview from Nashville, Jay opens up about his song, "Blank Stares," and how his family – father Joe (who still lives in Stout with Sherry) and sisters Cassie and Amber – struggle to find moments of connection with their mother in between the blank stares.

"My mom's only 53, and we started seeing the signs of [early onset Alzheimer's] when she was in her forties; but in the last few years it's progressed really quickly," Jay said.

Sherry struggles to drive, work, talk, dress herself, bathe, put on her own make-up, and do other day to day activities.

But the worst part about the disease, Jay says, is the blank stares on his mother's face.

"It feels like we've lost her; she'll walk into a room and she's just blank, like she isn't even there. It's crushing," Jay said. "It's almost like she's a shell of our mom. It's really hard, and it can be really frustrating. You feel helpless and angry, like there's no solution and nothing you can do."

As the only son and eldest child of Joe and Sherry, Jay says he's always been a fixer. So he decided to use what he does best – music – to help his mother.

"One thing I never realized is that music is a trigger for people with Alzheimer's; it wakes something in them up," he said. "My dad brought my mom down to Nashville to visit last winter, and we got her all dolled up and took her a show where a friend of mine was performing. When she heard the music, she instantly woke up. She was smiling and tapping her foot to the tune."

So Jay got her up to the front of the stage and the two started to dance.

Jay Allen is shown above with his mother, Sherry Rich, who was diagnosed with Early Onset Alzheimer's Disease and now struggles to do day-to-day activities. Jay and his family are working to raise money to provide care for her. "We got up there and she took this deep breathe, and she said 'Jay, I've missed you so much, I love you,'" he said.

"She just came to; she woke up. And I couldn't shake that. I live for those moments. I hope and pray to see her again for another moment between the blank stares."

Jay says for him, it was a total God moment. So he went into the studio and told his co-writers that he wanted to write a song about his mom.

Instantly, they jumped on board and after just a few sessions, they had the song finished.

Soon afterwards, Jay got a call from his label president at Sony Music, who's father passed away from Alzheimer's; he told Jay he wanted to share the song, and get it out there for people to hear. From there, the song exploded, and more and more people – big names and small – flocked to Jay to thank him for the song, at the same time sharing their own stories of dealing with a loved one who had Alzheimer's.

Since the song was released, Jay has participated and performed at a number of benefits for Alzheimer's awareness. In just one month, Jay says he has helped raise over $11 million towards the cause, doing shows and benefits with Garth Brooks and other big name artists. In addition to that, all of the proceeds from his song "Blank Stare" will go to Abe's Garden, an Alzheimer's and Memory Care Facility in Nashville.

Jay says his hope is that this song will raise awareness, bring hope to those affected, and most importantly, become a weapon in the fight against Alzheimer's.

But meanwhile, Jay is also looking to help find care for his own mother back home.

Three years ago Jay's uncle, Sherry's brother, moved from Texas to care of her; but he recently made the tough decision to move back to Texas to care for his own daughter who is mentally ill.

Jay's father Joe works long hours at John Deere in Waterloo, leaving him unable to care for Sherry during the day.

As of June 1, Sherry will be without care, as insurance will not provide for her since she is too young.

The family can't afford to pay for day to day care (which would cost $100 a day or more) and they can't afford to put her in a facility (which would cost $5,000 a month or more), so See ALLEN page 3

GCHS Class of 2018 celebrates commencement

By MICHAELA KENDALL

GRUNDY CENTER – Sunday afternoon, family, friends and community members packed into the gymnasium to celebrate the graduation of Grundy Center High School's Class of 2018.

The ceremony began with a welcome from the Class of 2018 President, Amber Laube, who gave a speech titled "Life's About the Journey, Not the Destination."

"Guys, it's finally here. We've made it to the day of caps, gowns, and diplomas," Laube said. "This past month has been long, as we all have been praying for graduation day to come, to be done with high school. We have reached our destination. As you all sit here today, take a minute to look back on the journey that has gotten you here. The moments leading up to this day have been exhausting, preparing and getting ready for graduation. Now that it's finally here, it's going to be over in the blink of an eye, and I want you all to remember that, as you savor this moment, and work towards your future destinations. The destination will never last long; it's the journey that makes us who we are."

"As we leave here, we'll have many destinations: college, getting out of your parents basement, landing your dream job, buying that dog, then getting married and having the average 2.4 kids; upgrading from the dusty minivans to the fancy SUV's," she said. "All of these things are goals, among many others, that we will have to work for. But, as we're striving to be accomplished, we can't forget about how we got where we are and to notice what's right in front of us. We can't wish our lives away, because that means wishing away the journeys; the people, the mistakes, the lessons, the experiences, and the memories. So as you start on your way toward your new des-other graduating senior, Jake Bangasser, gave a speech titled "Positive Perspectives."

In his speech, Bangasser described how his schooling at GCHS has provided him with so much more than just an education.

"Looking back on my school years, there's an infinite amount of stories and lessons I've learned that I can talk about," he said. "My schooling at Grundy Center has provided me with so much more than an education. It's provided me with a positive outlook on life, friends that will last a lifetime, and an appreciation for all the little things."

Bangasser described a time when he was in fourth grade, and Mr. McMartin saw him slacking off in class; instead of scolding him, McMartin put him back on the track to positivity with some kind advice.

"[It seems like] anytime a teacher wants to 'talk' about something, you may be in some deep trouble," Bangasser said.

"But in this instance, it was a positive conversation that still sticks with me. It started off with him just asking why I wasn't on task, but his closing remarks are what I still remember. He said, [something like], 'Jake, you have the ability to lead people in whatever direction you want. People follow you, and that's such a powerful tool. Don't waste it.' And he sent me on my way. That was an extremely powerful conversation, and it really turned around my thinking. I realized that the things I say to people, and the way I act towards people, really do matter. The way I represent myself matters. I'm representing my school, community, parents, and all those who follow me. From that point on, I did my best to lead in a positive direction."

"Things are not always going to be perfect, but we have the defining choice of how we See COMMENCEMENT page 3

Beaman Memorial Day festivities set for this weekend

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

BEAMAN- The long, fun-filled summer Grundy County festival circuit will kick off this weekend as the small but mighty community of Beaman hosts its renowned Memorial Day celebration, complete with a heartfelt remembrance of the veterans who have died during armed conflicts and perhaps the most American tradition of all—a high school baseball tournament on Monday afternoon.

One of the new features of this year's event will be a performance from Mike Anderson, aka "The Dulcimer Guy," known for his old-time instrument and vast musical knowledge. On Saturday afternoon, he'll treat guests to a host of tunes from the Civil War era along with a separate set earlier in the morning at the library.

Norris brings message of small town populism to GC stop

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER- Never one to rest on his laurels, Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Norris took a self-described "break" from the news and his smartphone on Friday morning while traveling to Grundy Center for a meet and greet at Pancho Villa, opting instead for a manual on agricultural policy. As he arrived, he got wind of two unrelated but alarming developments: a coalition of Democrats and conservative Republicans in the House of Representatives had torpedoed the federal farm bill, and 10 more students were dead in an apparent school shooting near Houston.

Against that backdrop, the discussion amongst the handful of attendees quickly shifted toward guns, mental health (specifically, the closing of two institutions under former Governor Terry Branstad), health care costs, immigration, small town despair and issues germane to the rural areas that Norris, a Red Oak native who now calls Des Moines home, has sought to highlight throughout his campaign for the state's highest executive office.

"When you think about (the fact that) the people in rural parts of this country have higher suicide rates than veterans, that's something people can get their heads and their hearts around," University of Northern Iowa Professor Joe Gordon said. "We have to do something about it."

As governor, Norris told the group that he would free up more beds at critical access facilities like the Grundy County Memorial Hospital (GCMH) to

BCLUW class of 2018 celebrates next chapter at commencement ceremony

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

CONRAD- Fifty BCLUW seniors received their diplomas on Sunday and wrapped up one chapter of their lives, but no matter where they end up, they'll always be Comets.

"As you leave here today and begin your next journey, the road will surely get bumpy at times. That is when we want you to draw from your high school experiences and the times that you could've given up but didn't," high school principal Kristyn Kell said. "We as a school and community hope that we have given you the foundation to take risks, to know what is right and wrong, to think on your feet, to be a good team player and to be able to prove it in every avenue of life."

The class was celebrated for its academic excellence as over half of its members graduated with honors, and the five speakers—Brad Barkema, Troy Dolphin, Faith Leonard, Lauren Mosher and Mackenzie Trinkle—reflected on the last 13 years with a mix of humor, sadness and unflinching optimism for the future.

Barkema encouraged classmates to "find their process" and focus on it above the final product while setting a host of achievable goals. Dolphin touted the benefits of living in the present and enjoying the moment without constantly looking toward greener pastures.

"I took these things, among others, for granted, and did not appreciate what I had while I had it," he said. "So many times, I think we get caught up in looking forward to things and forget where we are... In doing so, we often miss what's going on around us. Sometimes it takes the end of something to realize how much it meant to you."

Leonard, who came to BCLUW as a senior, thanked the student body for welcoming her with open arms at a new district and guiding her toward her next adventure at Simpson College.

"The road ahead will not be easy, but worth it," she said. "We will be on our own. Some are terrified, and some are eager.

To those who are terrified, trust me, I am too."

Mosher, in her characteristically energetic fashion, pulled heavily from Robert Frost's classic poem The Road Less Traveled and the country song of the same name by Lauren Alaina—along with Journey's "Don't Stop Believing" and the viral Kid President YouTube videos.

"We may take the road less traveled, but we're also on the same team. If we're on the same team, let's start working together to make the world a better place," Mosher said. "We can cry about it, or we can dance about it. I don't know about you, but I would much rather dance."

Trinkle recounted some of the funniest moments the class of 2018 shared together while fighting back tears, including Talon Hala's rendition of "My Humps" in second grade, Greg Schmitt's propensity for passing gas in fifth grade, Keegan Rhinehart's FCS signatures in eighth grade and Calob Keller's glass breaking skills.

"As Winnie the Pooh said, how lucky am I to have something that makes saying good-bye so hard," she said.

The program also featured a choral version of Green Day's graduation staple "Time of Your Life," a rose ceremony with parents, a performance by the band, and a recessional to the timeless Beastie Boys classic "Fight For Your Right (to Party)."

Allen

they are asking for help.

One month ago, Jay and his family created a GoFundMe page to raise donations that would help provide Sherry with the care she needs.

"Our mother and wife was the best," the family wrote on the GoFundMe page. "She sacrificed everything for us, taught us how to love people, and showed us how to give our lives to Jesus. It's with a deep sadness in our hearts that we humbly ask and pray for God to quickly provide. We know she would have done the same for us."

The family has currently raised $13,000 out of their $60,000 goal to provide care for Sherry.

Jay says he hopes the fundraiser will help provide the care needed for his mother, who has always been so selfless and giving to her family.

"Growing up, money was tight," Jay said. "But I was a stupid kid, and if I would beg for some dumb toy for Christmas, she would work overtime during the holidays and nearly kill herself to make sure we got exactly what we wanted. She was just so selfless like that. When I was in high school, she stayed up with me until 3 in the morning one night crying about my girlfriend who broke up with me. She was just like that; to everyone. I want this to be my way of giving back to her."

Jay says it can hard to deal with a family member having Alzheimer's, which is sometimes called "The Long Goodbye." But for all the bad days his mother has, the good days are the ones that really matter.

"It's one thing to lose someone quickly, but it's another thing to watch them go," he said. "You try to pull them back but you know you can't; you can see them fading. It's easy to feel hopeless and lost, but then there are those good days where they come back, and it's them again; you learn to live for those."

Supervisors discuss Mid-Iowa expansion, workforce development

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER- After a discussion during last week's meeting created confusion over the parameters of an urban renewal agreement with Mid-Iowa Cooperative for its expansion north of Grundy Center, the Grundy County Board of Supervisors voted to move forward with the process on Monday morning.

According to Butler-Grundy Economic Development Alliance Director Jeff Kolb, the development agreement—which specifies the number of jobs, minimum investment and tax status of the new facility—comes after the initial urban renewal agreement. Chairman Jim Ross noted during the previous meeting that details on jobs were not included in the URA paperwork and urged fellow supervisors to vote against setting a hearing date until it could be clarified.

Kolb added that the current assessed value of the new elevator is just shy of $9,500,000, although original estimates had pegged it closer to $14,000,000. It is expected to create three or four permanent jobs. The board eventually voted 4-1 to move forward with a scheduled consultation on May 30, as Harlyn Riekema dissented.

On the economic development front, Kolb reported that leads are currently slow due to uncertainty with "what's going on at the federal level," but he has turned his efforts toward workforce development initiatives.

"Workforce development is really key," Kolb said. "We're focusing on connecting the high schools with skilled trades, and our goal is that come August we'll have a plan in place between schools and employers."

He's still looking for a buyer at the old Pamida building on the west edge of Grundy Center but argued that the current owners have set an unrealistic price. In related news, Kahn Tile Supply has purchased land on 160th Street (or "Old Highway 20") and is planning to move from its current location at the Grundy County Industrial Park near The Mill.

County Engineer Gary Mauer presented the board with several bridge projects in need of attention over the next few years, and a consulting agreement with Calhoun-Burns received unanimous approval. He estimated that repairing the five new bridges would cost around $390,000, while full replacements would set the county back nearly $2,000,000. After submitting a low quote of $50,995, PCI will repair bridge B20 northwest of Dike, which is currently closed.

Near the end of the meeting, Supervisor Barb Smith told the board that Operation Threshold could see major cuts in available funds for weatherization due to a recent bill passed in the Iowa legislature easing requirements on energy efficiency spending for investor-owned utility companies. Current Director Jaynie Mason will also be taking a job with OT in Waterloo, but she plans to assist in the transition until Grundy County can find a new leader.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board:

- Presented a five-year service award to Ross Wiebensohn and a 15-year service award to Barb Smith.

- Approved the use of the courthouse grounds for the farmer's market bike night and the Bible Reading Marathon.

- Approved a five-day liquor license for the Landmark Bistro at 21461 240th Street in Grundy Center.

- Approved a certificate of cost allocation plan and authorized the chairperson to sign it.

be used for psychiatric care and mental health referrals.

"(Even) if you had a facility in Marshalltown, it would not be that convenient for people from Grundy Center to go to, but it would be a hell of a lot more convenient than going to Cherokee or to Independence," Norris supporter Pete Grady said.

Grady's wife Jeannine called the Republican legislature's recent moves "a war on common sense" and urged Norris to pursue policies aimed at keeping guns out of the hands of mentally unstable individuals.

"There is such a thing as good government, and (it's like) we're putting training wheels back on our democracy," she said.

In running a rural-centric campaign as a Democrat, Norris is cognizant of the reality that the odds are stacked against him, but he hasn't shied away from visiting GOP strongholds like Grundy County and speaking authoritatively on rural issues.

Over a burrito verde and tortilla chips, he cited farmers as some of the biggest beneficiaries of government intervention in the modern era and argued that ag businesses have created a system that forces federal programs to backfill their income thanks to "policies written by Cargill and Monsanto."

"There's a double standard out there... When (former President Jimmy) Carter put the grain embargo on in 1980, farmers just blew a gasket, but Trump talks about tariffs—which would be even more damaging—and they say, 'Well, we've just got to give it time,'" he said. "We have a system of agriculture that's high input, high output, (and) no profit for farmers. We've got to change that."

In Norris's view, the dim financial outlook is directly tied to overreliance on commercial fertilizers, further consolidation of operations, absentee landowners, the proliferation of contract-farming hog confinements and water quality concerns that drove the state to allocate nearly $300 million in funding over 12 years in hopes of reducing the nitrate levels.

It isn't all doom and gloom, however: according to Grundy Center Democrat Dave Souhrada, Minnesota farmers have largely bought in to the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR's) conservation effort there, and the number of cover crop acres planted in Iowa has increased dramatically in the last decade. Still, Norris believes that a substantive change will require a major paradigm shift.

Since graduating from Simpson College and spurning a job offer to become the sports editor at the Centerville Daily Iowegian, Norris went on to law school at the University of Iowa and has spent most of his professional career working in positions with the state's Democratic party, aiding candidates for national office, leading the nonprofit Iowa Farm Unity Coalition during the crisis of the 1980's, chairing the Iowa Utilities Board and later serving the federal government under President Obama, not to mention a stint in the private sector as the owner of the Old Hotel Restaurant in Greenfield.

But his life-affirming moment, the one that he says defined his worldview, was marching with National Farm Workers Association co-founder and Chicano activist Cesar Chavez in the fruit fields of central California near the same locales made famous in Merle Haggard's songs and John Steinbeck's canonical novels The Grapes of Wrath and Of Mice and Men. For communities like Hampton, Marshalltown, Storm Lake and Denison now filled with migrant workers in ag-related industries, Norris believes the same message can resonate today.

"If they want to work, let them work. White people don't want to work," Souhrada said.

Democratic voters will choose between six candidates—Norris, Fred Hubbell, Nate Boulton, Andrea McGuire, Cathy Glasson and Ross Wilburn—when they head to the polls for the primary on June 5.

Hunt accepts superintendent position in Anamosa

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

DIKE- After seven years at the helm of the Dike-New Hartford school district, Superintendent Larry Hunt has announced that he will accept the same position with Anamosa and move on at the end of June.

Hunt's tenure has been marked by a steady enrollment increase at D-NH, from approximately 791 students served during the 2011-2012 school year to 882 in 2017-2018. Thanks in part to its close proximity to the Waterloo-Cedar Falls area, the district has bucked the trend of declining rural numbers across the state as Dike continues to add new housing. In assessing his time here, Hunt points to increased success metrics and behavior under his watch.

"I think we've gained a focus on student achievement data better than maybe what we've had in the past," he said. "And I think we've done some good facility improvements over the years. I think we've made good strides... Hindsight is 20/20, but I think as we've progressed, we've done a pretty good job for the most part."

According to the Anamosa

Eureka-Journal, Hunt was one of 24 total applicants for the job, and the Jones County district situated between Cedar Rapids and Dubuque is currently serving about 1,225 students. His goals for the new job include improving sharing opportunities, professional development and working closely with nearby colleges.

School Board President Melissa Hinde could not be immediately reached for comment, and a replacement has not yet been named. Hunt and his wife Lori have three adult children: two live in Cedar Rapids, and one in Ryan. Current Anamosa Superintendent Lisa Beames is retiring at the end of the school year after taking the position in 2013.

Above all, Hunt will miss the bonds he's built, and he hopes to apply some of the lessons he's learned to his new job.

"The people and the relationships and the professional relationships we have (are great)," he said. "Here at D-NH, you know that every Friday night, your kids are going to go out and compete and you're going to watch... I think we'll have some of those same types of things."

Following the speeches, High School Principal Michael Vokes bestowed student awards.

dictorians, while Cade Rohler was named Salutatorian. Hannah Stahl was named Girl of the Year, and Josh Kuiper was named Boy of the Year.

At the end of the ceremony, Principal Vokes presented the Grundy Center Class of 2018, and each were awarded diplomas.

Before leaving the gym, the new graduates joined together to sing the Alma Mater, as the crowd sang along in celebration of the Grundy Center Class of 2018.

Absentee ballots available for June 5 Primary Election

Absentee ballots are available for the June 5 Primary Election at the Grundy County Auditor's Office.

To vote early by absentee ballot, eligible voters residing in Grundy County may stop at the Grundy County Auditor's Office on the 2nd floor of the courthouse during normal business hours Monday through Friday (8:00 AM to 4:30 PM). The last day to vote by absentee ballot at the Auditor's Office is June 4. The Grundy County Auditor's Office will also be open on Saturday, June 2, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. for election business.

To vote early by mail, absentee ballot request forms are available on the Grundy County website - www.grundycounty.org - under the heading "Where do I ...?" Click on "Vote Absentee". This will download an application form to request an absentee ballot. The completed forms should be sent to the Grundy County Auditor, 706 G Avenue, Grundy Center, IA 50638. The last day to request an absentee ballot by mail is May 25 at 5:00 PM.

Absentee ballots returned by hand may be delivered to the County Auditor's Office at the Courthouse until 9:00 PM on June 5. Absentee ballots may not be turned in at the polling place except to be surrendered and voided, in which case the voter would then vote at the polls. Absentee ballots returned by mail must be postmarked by June 4 and received before noon on June 11.

While Iowa law allows you to register to vote on Election Day at the polling place for the precinct in which you currently live, Grundy County Auditor Rhonda R. Deters recommends that you pre-register to vote. By registering, your name will appear in the electronic poll book at the polling site, and you will avoid the time-consuming process required for same day voter registration.

You can register in person at the County Auditor's Office at the Courthouse. Voter registration forms are also available on the Grundy County website - www.grundycounty.org - under the heading "Where do I ...?" Click on "Register to Vote". This will download a voter registration form. The completed form should be sent to the Grundy County Auditor, 706 G Avenue, Grundy Center, IA 50638. Voter registration forms must be received by May 25 at 5:00 p.m. for this election. If you are already registered to vote, there is no need to re-register to participate in this election.

Polls will be open at 7:00 AM and close at 9:00 PM on Primary Election Day, June 5. If you have any questions, please contact the Grundy County Auditor's Office (319-824-3122).

BCLUW board approves pay raise for secretaries

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

CONRAD- The BCLUW board of education voted to raise the pay of each of its four district secretaries—Pam Schipper, Tamba Simpson, Cami Parker and Jen Hoveland—by a dollar an hour during Monday morning's regular meeting, but not before one member expressed concern that it could create an unsustainable "domino effect" if other employees demand higher wages.

"Are we setting a precedent that we're willing to negotiate? We become hostage—and maybe that's not a good word—to the whims of everyone," LJ Kopsa said. "There comes a tipping point where you can't pay someone more for the job that they're performing and have it make sense."

As Superintendent Ben Petty noted, the raises will also increase the amount that BCLUW puts toward each secretary's Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) tax and Iowa Public Employees Retirement System (IPERS) fund by around 17 percent—or about $2,000 annually.

Petty explained that the average rate for secretaries in similarly sized rural districts is generally between $9.50 and $14 an hour, and BCLUW fell somewhere in the middle. Eventually, the board voted 6-1 to approve the raises, with Kopsa dissenting.

"I just worry about the domino effect," he said. "People don't understand how much it costs to give a raise... It's not just a dollar."

The board voted unanimously to move forward and accept bids for a rain gutter replacement project after an initial quote came in at around $9,000 with an additional $3,600 cost for the southwest corner of the high school.

"It needed to happen years ago," Kopsa said. "I think we need to have a better plan of maintaining this building and the facilities."

Later in the meeting, the board voted to accept a bid for a new Ford transit van from Union Auto at a cost of $28,667.

In personnel news, the board accepted resignations from teacher and coach Dustin Hammers, assistant basketball coach Dylan Humpal and Kelly Trinkle as the basketball cheerleading coach while offering contracts to Jodi Hinegardner as a high school special education and health teacher and Becky Wayman as a middle school special education aide.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board:

- Approved the commendations as listed.
- Approved allowing the senior class to donate 50 percent of its remaining funds toward new equipment for the weight room.
- Approved the appointment of Callie Bergen as a volunteer softball coach.

be spotlighted during a showing of "Floyd's Movies," a collection of videos and photos by the late Floyd Ashton—including the great cooperative fire and RAGBRAI coming through town. All of his archives are now available on DVD thanks to a recent grant from the Grundy County Community Foundation.

"I don't think the public has seen (Ashton's videos) before," organizer Brenda Heitmeyer said. "This is Beaman's big thing."

For Heitmeyer and fellow organizers Debbie Ashton and Sarah Dougherty, all of whom grew up in the Beaman-Conrad area, the Memorial Day festivities have always been an integral part of their lives.

"You don't plan anything else on Memorial weekend," Heitmeyer said. "We kind of play on Saturday and honor our veterans on Monday."

Nonetheless, plenty of the usual staples will remain in place: the Pat Neff Memorial Run and the fireman's breakfast on Saturday morning, the kids games on Saturday (and corn hole for adults), the pedal tractor pull, the community church service on Sunday, the aforementioned baseball tournament, and of course, the 136th consecutive morning and afternoon Memorial Day programs at the two cemeteries and the city park, respectively, on Monday.

Retired Marine Corps Gunner Sgt. and trumpeter Jeff Frank, who is also the outgoing city clerk in Beaman, will deliver the keynote address on Monday afternoon. Frank spoke at the BCLUW Veteran's Day programs in Conrad and Union last November and has performed "Taps" live on NBC during a Sunday Night Football game in New York City commemorating the anniversary of the September 11 terrorist attacks.

And once it's all said and done, the people of Beaman can kick back, relax and celebrate the rest of the area festivals without worrying about their own—for a few months, at least.

"It's not that we don't like to do it; it's just (nice)," Ashton said.

P.E.O. STAR scholarship awarded

Former American Idol contestant, Jason Rich of Dike, will be performing live in the Cedar Valley area in celebration of his upcoming move to Nashville, Tenn. Jason's performance will be held at the Heartland Vineyard Church in Cedar Falls Friday, May 23 at 7 p.m. Jason Rich is a Contemporary Christian artist. He auditioned for American Idol this season and qualified for Hollywood week in which he placed in the top 65 people out of 112,000. Jason has been playing the guitar and composing his own songs since the age of 12.

The year was 1942 and as a train chugged passed a farm located in northern Grundy County, a 23-year-old young man stood waving from a railcar platform. He cried out over the loud, riveting noise of the train passing over the tracks, "Good-bye Mooka! (a Dutch endearment term for mother), Goodbye Pop!" And then he disappeared in the distance. This was the last memory that Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gelder had of their young son as they sent him off to war. He never returned. Private Arnold Gelder, one of six brothers to fight in World War II, was killed in action on July 22, 1943. He was a gunner in a tank battalion fighting to push back German territory in Sicily when his tank was hit. Similar good-byes such as the late Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gelder endured were experienced around the countryside that year and every year since when men and women have been sent off to fight for the freedoms of the citizens of this great nation. Memorial Day is the day to stop and remember those who have fallen and given the ultimate sacrifice, their lives, for our great nation

25 Years Ago This Week -

After months of planning, the Two-Cylinder Center Grand Opening and Swap Meet will be held Monday and Tuesday, May 24 and 25, in Grundy Center. The Center officially opens with a ribbon-cutting ceremony scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, at the Center. Approximately 125 fully-restored tractors and implements will be on display on the grounds around the Center. These exhibits will be on display until 5 p.m. Tuesday. The Swap Meet and Vendor Show of John Deere-related items also opens Monday. This event will be held at the Grundy County Fairgrounds, and will begin at 7 a.m. on both Monday and Tuesday. A total of 42 participants have registered for this event, and they will have a wide variety of items for the collector or restorer. Monday evening, an area Dixieland Jazz band will be entertaining Two-Cylinder Club members and local residents. Bill Sheperd's Red Hots will be entertaining on the bandstand located at the courthouse square beginning at 8 p.m..

As a result of the upcoming Two-Cylinder Events, Grundy County residents are going to get a first-hand look at the impact and significance of the tourism industry. Tourism is the third largest industry in the state. The industry employs 45,000 people and generates $2.5 billion annually. Last year the state collected $136.5 million in taxes generated by travelers' spending. Travelers spend more than $100 per day with the largest percentage of this going to overnight accommodations. The Iowa Travel Council has existed for 27 years and is devoted to improving the awareness and impact of tourism throughout the state. This year Wellsburg has taken the first important step. They have taken the opportunity provided and decided to expand on it. The city will be hosting an Antique Tractor Pull & Flea Market This will be held on the evening of May 24. There is no end to the opportunities tourism will provide Grundy County.

50 Years Ago This Week - 1968

Thousands of young men have gone to war - not all have come back: Six times in the past century, hundreds of young men from the farms and small towns of Grundy county have answered a call to defend their nation during the Civil War, Spanish American War, World War I, World War II, Korean Conflict and Vietnam. Next Thursday morning, Grundy county will pay special tribute to all its deceased veterans at Memorial Day services.

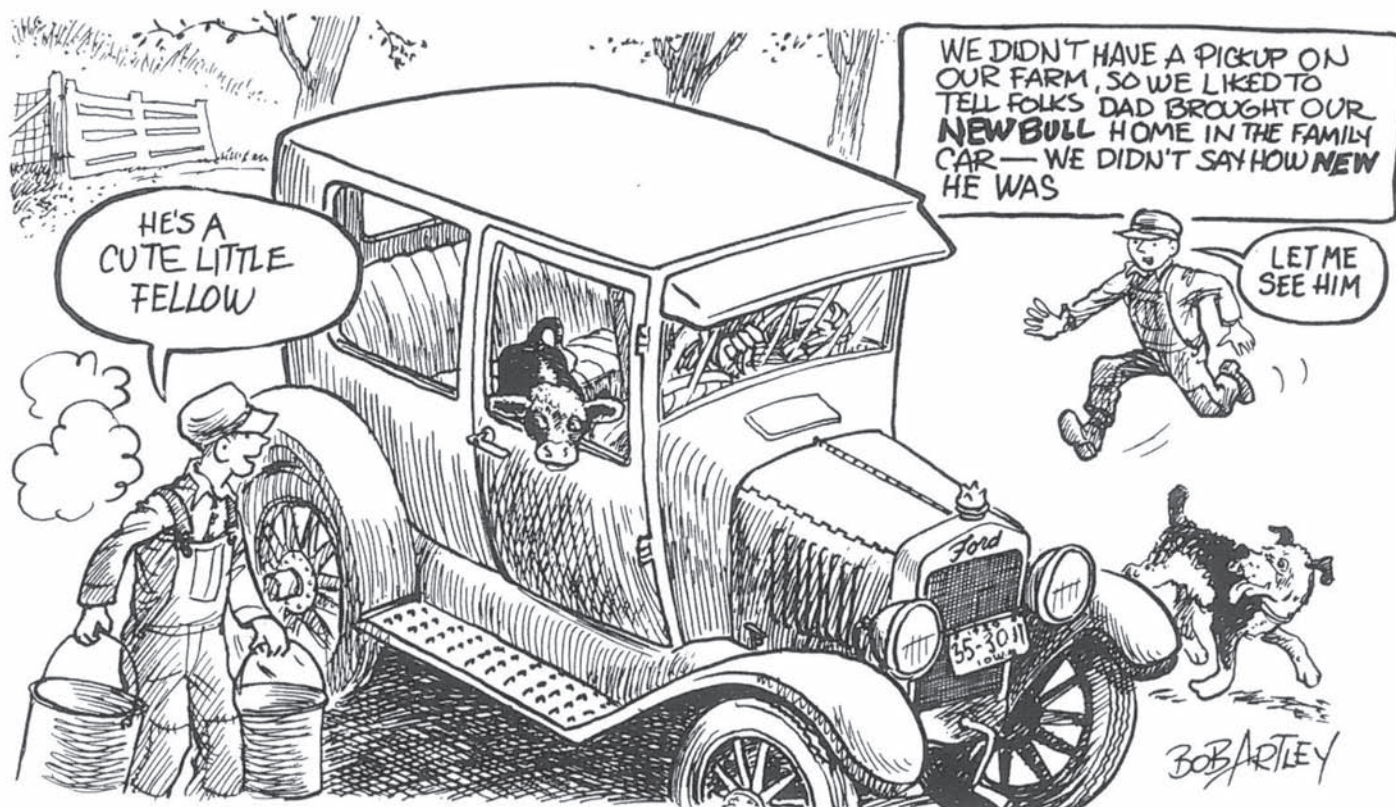

Nineteen juveniles and two adults were arrested last Friday night when local and county law enforcement officials raided a beer party at a deserted farm yard northeast of Reinbeck. The two adults were Mike Neal and Rudiger Schusske, both of Reinbeck. Neal was fined $100 plus court costs and Schusske, was also fined $100. Charges against the 19 teens are still pending further investigation by juvenile authorities.

One Grundy County teenager, Jeffrey Lockwood, 17, has been sentenced to the Eldora Training School for Boys and two accomplices are being held by juvenile authorities after they admitted breaking into eight churches in a four county area during a four day binge which ended with their arrest last Wednesday.

Windstorm damage at the M. A. Tranbarger farm, located near Conrad, was estimated at close to $5000. The large barn on the farm was almost a total loss, the windmill was twisted into a mass of metal, shingles were torn from the roof of the home, damage done to the corncrib, and the hog house and several small buildings to the north of the farm were demolished. There was an insurance of the barn of almost $2000. Parts of the barn were strewn over a quarter of a mile radius.

Miss Margaret Sayer, daughter of Dr. Bert Sayer, who for many years practiced medicine at Whitten and Conrad, was arrested by the FBI in Los Angeles last Saturday on charges of unlawfully making sketches of blueprints of airplane construction at the North American Aviation plant near Los Angeles. Miss Sayer had been employed by the army air corps as an inspector. An FBI agent who arrest her charged that she carried the blueprints from the aviation plant concealed in her clothing.

Conservation
Comments

Spring is here (and some days have felt like spring is nearly past). Could it be only few weeks ago that we were experiencing snow delays and cancellations?

The calls about wildlife babies began several weeks ago. The annual onslaught of calls came with the same message: "I found a baby animal. What do I do?" And with the first ones, I found myself saying "this can't be. Its too early for this" But no matter what the weather, the internal clocks of so many species marched on. As hard as it is, usually the best thing to do the next time you see baby wildlife that appears orphaned is leave it alone. Stand back and observe the situation, most of the time the human desire to help or "rescue" baby, orphaned, or injured wildlife can have unintended consequences for the animal, including death.

The first families of little wild things have already hatched or been born. Children's books portray Mother Nature as kindly and nurturing. In reality, she might better be described as headmaster in nature's school of hard knocks. Parent geese are superprotective of their little goslings, but predators like snapping turtles begin to thin their ranks as soon as they hit the water. Newly laid eggs in hundreds of bird nests face all kinds of threats even before they hatch. Eggs are high quality protein for a variety of other creatures including fox squirrels and blue jays that live around many of our yards. House wrens and house sparrows destroy the eggs of other cavity nesting species as they try to take over nest sites.

What I am trying to convey in all of this is that while we may view orphaned wildlife babies as only cute and cuddly, their place in the ecosystem includes sometimes (many times) being critical food for others.

Never attempt to rehabilitate a wild animal yourself. It is against the law to keep wild animals.

By KEVIN WILLIAMS
Grundy County
Conservation Director

Spring is a busy time for wildlife parents, who typically leave their young alone, sometimes for long periods, throughout the day. This does not mean that the parent is not nearby and very conscious of where they left their babies. If you find a baby bird that is not fully feathered or its eyes are closed, return the bird to its nest. If it is not possible to access the nest or it was damaged in the fall, place the nestling in an artificial nest at a lower location as close as possible to the original location. Artificial nests can be made from a small basket or box lined with dry grass, soft cloth or shredded paper. Minimal human handling will not discourage the parents from caring for a baby bird. The parents may be wary of the new location or nest, and might take a few hours before they approach but they will return.

So, I end this article with what some will think is a cruel message. No matter the cuteness factor - be it a baby deer, baby raccoon, baby wood duck or countless other wildlife babies, leave the "orphans" in the wild.

Grassley Q & A:
Prescription drug prices

Question: What can be done to bring down prescription drug prices for American consumers?

Answer: Drug pricing is tied to a complex, highly regulated regime laced with incentives and guidelines structured to protect patient safety and foster innovation. Congress has enacted patent laws intended to encourage advances in biomedical technology to improve public health and save lives. In recent decades, the American public has placed high hopes on breakthrough medicines to prevent, treat and cure chronic illnesses and diseases. At the same time, Americans are increasingly alarmed by the escalating costs of prescription medicines. Iowans routinely express concern about access to affordable medicine and the sticker shock that too often occurs when they fill a prescription. In fact, Iowans flagged an issue during the Obama administration about sky-high increases they were paying for the anti-allergy EpiPen device. It turns out a drug manufacturer was exploiting the Medicaid Drug Rebate program by classifying its popular anti-allergy medicine as a generic instead of as a brand name product. That move allowed it to issue smaller rebates to government programs, such as Medicaid. My oversight work led to troubling revelations that taxpayers were on the hook for exorbitant overpayments for the better part of a decade starting in 2006 because of that misclassification. The costly, anti-competitive practices were confirmed by the government's internal watchdog when it found that taxpayers may have overpaid for the EpiPen by as much as $1.27 billion over 10 years. Pharmaceutical companies gaming the system are cheating taxpayers and consumers by untold billions of dollars. The federal government needs to do a better job policing and enforcing the law and overseeing its programs. In places where the law falls short, I'm working on legislative reforms that would plug loopholes and hold wrongdoers accountable for taking taxpayers for a ride.

Question: What other solutions are you working on to lower drug prices?

Answer: The crux of the matter is figuring out how to thread the needle that stitches together the regulatory, legal and scientific patchwork that delivers lifesaving treatments and cures to the American people without compromising patient safety or curbing breakthrough scientific innovation that often require many years of expensive research and development. As chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, I am leading efforts on Capitol Hill to advance bipartisan bills that would improve market-based competition and curb Big Pharma's appetite for gaming the system with the cooperation of generic drug makers. That includes examining market exclusivity and legal arrangements that block generic competition from bringing more affordable options to neighborhood pharmacies. Delaying tactics too often make it virtually impossible for generic competitors to fairly compete for market share, including abusive practices that clog the pipeline to obtain samples of a particular medicine. Generics need access to branded samples to perform testing that proves their product is equivalent to the brand name drug. Another delaying strategy brand name drug makers use to undercut generic competitors is to block them from participating in safety protocols required to secure the FDA seal of approval. Our bipartisan CREATES Act would deter brand drug manufacturers from putting up anti-competitive roadblocks to generic drug competition. The Congressional Budget Office estimates our bill would shave $3.8 billion from the deficit and likely billions more for consumers and their insurers. I've also introduced a bipartisan bill that would crack down on anti-competitive pay-off schemes called the Preserve Access to Affordable Generics Act. Our legislation would lower the hammer on so-called "reverse payments" in which brand name manufacturers pay generic competitors not to compete as part of a patent settlement. As a result, consumers get the short end of the stick because generic drugs can be as much as 90 percent cheaper than brand name drugs. Soaring drug prices are unsustainable to household budgets and the public purse. Whereas no one wants to put an end to America's soaring success stories in scientific discovery and breakthrough cures, our federal regulatory regime needs to nimbly address flaws in the system that harm market competition at the expense of consumers and taxpayers. The web of anti-competitive maneuvers that thwarts competition in many cases gets mired in years of costly litigation. I'm working to cut through the thicket of federal regulations that are being exploited to undermine competition without uprooting medical discovery and innovation that drives economic growth and saves lives. I'm glad the Trump administration recently announced plans to follow through on the president's agenda to lower drug prices for American consumers. I will continue my work to strengthen transparency and competition, including rigorous enforcement of anti-kickback laws. They are time-tested tickets to prevent consumers and the taxpaying public from being taken for a ride.

A despot of intergalactic infamy, his goal is to collect all six Infinity Stones, artifacts of unimaginable power, & use them to inflict his twisted will on all of reality. Everything the Avengers have fought for has led up to this moment - the fate of Earth & existence itself has never been more uncertain. Avengers: Infinity War will be unlike any superhero movie you have ever seen & with a star-studded cast including Robert Downey Jr, Chris Hemsworth, Scarlett Johansson, Chris Pratt, Mark Ruffalo, Chris Evans, Tom Holland, Chadwick Boseman & Josh Brolin, it is one of the biggest movies of 2018!

The brand new family comedy Show Dogs is about the unlikely pairing of a human detective & his canine partner Max (voice of Chris "Ludacris" Bridges), who has to go undercover at the world's most exclusive dog show to solve his biggest case yet. Rugged lonewolf Max & his human FBI partner (Will Arnett) are investigating a crime ring when a hot tip leads them to Las Vegas for the world's most prestigious canine invitational dog show. Uber-macho Max must undergo a makeover with the help of a seasoned trainer (Natasha Lyonne) – mud baths, etiquette lessons & a Brazilian waxing – to go under cover in order to thwart the plot. In the hands of his new human handler Frank & with help from their new canine friends, Max gets in touch with his inner show dog, while learning that trusting the help of others can sometimes be more rewarding than working alone.

Progressive Agriculture Safety Day

On May 1 Grundy Center Elementary 3rd Graders attended Progressive Agriculture Safety Day at the Grundy County Fairgrounds. The purpose of Ag Safety Day is to remind children that a farm and livestock operations can be fun and exciting but to realize there's a lot of hidden dangers associated with farm equipment and handling the animals.

During the day's activities, students were able to rotate to various groups to learn about safety topics such as, electricity, firearms, grain bins, chemicals, farm equipment, lawn mowers, fire, sun prevention, and animals. The day offered students the chance to engage in hands-on activities that taught various safety practices in the above-mentioned fields.

While it was focused on agriculture safety, many of the practices taught during the day could be applied in various situations outside of agriculture. Everything that was learned at Agriculture Safety Day doesn't just apply to students. Students were able to take what they learned and discuss it with their parents and grandparents, hopefully sparking further consideration of safety techniques.

Marcia Stahl, the owner of The Flower Farm in Wellsburg, celebrated the relocation of her business with a formal ribbon cutting last Friday. The shop is open five days a week at 401 North Adams Street. (Robert Maharry/The Grundy Register photo)

Wellsburg officially welcomes The Flower Farm to town

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

WELLSBURG- Wellsburg residents have known local native Marcia Stahl and seen the sign promoting her business just east of town for some time now, but late last year, she took the next step and moved The Flower Farm into the heart of the community on North Adams Street. Last Friday, business leaders formally marked the occasion with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and reception celebrating the new location.

Stahl ran the flower shop out of the former grocery store,

R&M Foods, before it closed seven years ago, and in December, she officially returned to downtown Wellsburg.

"Being on Main Street made a big difference," she said. "It has. (We've gotten) a lot more walk-in (traffic), a lot more."

She's been passionate about the flower business since moving to Ackley and operating a store there in the late 1990s but pursued other endeavors in search of a more steady income. Upon remarrying and landing back in Wellsburg, she rediscovered her former love and at one time even sold bridal and prom dresses. Stahl recently sold that inventory off and plans to focus on floral arrangements.

Her prime location along the main drag has prompted more visitors, whether they're curious shoppers or friends just stopping in to say hello.

"The community has been very supportive, very much," Stahl said. "I'm just excited for the community and hope it continues for me."

The Flower Farm will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. from Tuesday to Friday and 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

The Grundy Register office will be closed on MONDAY, MAY 28 in honor of MEMORIAL DAY. Have a safe and happy holiday!

Cox to attend Boys State

Andy Cox will be representing Grundy Center American Legion Post 349 at the 2018 Boys State which will be held June 10-15 at Camp Dodge in Johnston.

Andy Cox

Iowa American Legion Hawkeye Boys State is a week-long "Hands-On" experience in the operation of the democratic form of government, the organization of political parties, and the relationship of one to the other in shaping Iowa government. Through the Boys State objective of "learning by doing", young men will learn more about city, county and state government in one week than they would in an entire semester of high school.

Boys State is an exercise in leading as well as following others. Elections are an opportunity to show the ability to perform under pressure and to show character in the face of victories and/or defeats. Boys State will test skill in solving problems and working effectively within a team.

Boys State is an opportunity to gain pride and respect for our form of government and the price paid by people to preserve democracy. The week contains ceremonies and assemblies as well as marching and pageantry. Guest speakers, such as Past National Commander of The American Legion David Rehbein, and former director of the Iowa High School Athletic Association Bernie Saggau, along with Iowa government leaders attend each year to offer their vision and advice. Daily flag raising and lowering ceremonies are conducted at Boys State.

Trees at Elm Wood

The trees at Elm Wood Cemetery have been providing a beautiful scene for drivers using T-55. The Evelyn Crab Trees have been in full bloom with red blossoms. The red blossom trees line the roadway in the cemetery, and the white blossom crab trees are on the north side of the cemetery. The colors in spring are so brilliant, and timing for being able to catch the colors at their peak is precious.

I drive to the Grundy County Lake every day, and many times I look to the left to check the wind direction the flags are blowing and then take in the breathtaking view of the beautiful trees.

I realize many of the residents do not get the chance to see the trees in full bloom and the picture that I have taken is beautiful, but the black and white picture that would be in the paper would not do justice to their beauty. So, next spring put crab tree viewing on your bucket list.

Council concerns

On May 9, council members took under consideration a request from Marcus Miller for an extension to the abatement date in which he has to remove the building that had the roof collapse and clean up his property at 132 W State street in Dike. Council did not allow his request so this is now his appeal to the abatement. This gives Miller thirty days from his appeal at which time the council will set a date for a public hearing concerning this situation.

The next regular council meeting is on June 13 at 7:00 p.m.

Finished project

Last week, we watched the grading of the parking lot at Slice. I told you I would send a picture of the finished project. On the hot summer day of May 16, the crew started black-topping in the morning, and by evening, the lot was completed. Watch the cones, and when they are gone, we will be free to park on a stone free puddle free parking lot. No meters, just go inside and enjoy your meal. No picture because we all know what blacktop looks like, so just go drive on it and enjoy your walk to inside!

City of Dike

The purpose of this article is to provide the regulation for the use and operation of golf carts within the limits of the City of Dike.

Golf cart are defined as any motorized vehicle intended to be used as a conveyance on the golf course for the benefit of playing golf.

No person shall drive on the city street if they do not have a legal driver's license. Golf carts used on the city street must be equipped with safety devices as required by Iowa Law for slow moving vehicles. No person shall operate or use a golf cart on the city streets within the city limits between the hours of sunset and sunrise of the following day.

No person shall operate nor use a golf cart within the limits of the city with more persons, including the driver or operator occupying the same as the manufacturers recommend.

Anyone violating any of the provisions of the law will be guilty of a municipal infraction, and be punished accordingly.

Let's keep the streets and legal golf cart drivers safe.

Camping weekend

The trailers and campers started arriving at the Grundy County Camping area as early as Wednesday evening. Camping sites were paid for and labeled for this, the first nice weekend of summer. Fun in the sun. I can't wait to talk to Kevin Williams, Grundy County Conservation Director and get a count of park visitors.

In a quick drive through, the kids were out in full force enjoying the bike and walking trails and playground. It's a great weekend to get the trailers ready for a full season at any and all local parks.

About town

It is Saturday morning, and coffee is ready at the Craig and Leah Hansen residence. This is an event that happens most Saturdays, but today was the first time this year we enjoyed an outdoor patio setting. Perfect weather, cranberry bars and glazers. Karina poured while the others, Marcia, Kyle, Casey, Suzan, Curt, Diane, Leah and Craig told tales from years ago.

I sometimes get information that I can print in the paper, and this was one of those days. Craig is the Legion Commander, and in visiting, he informed us that on Memorial Day, May 28, the speaker for the 11:00 a.m. program will be Charles Grassley. Just an important fact that needed to be shared. So readers, please keep looking for an additional item for the Memorial Day schedule of events.

Great coffee, good company and perfect weather are what we hope to share with friends any day of the week.

Vern Sires traveled to Stevensville, Montana to visit his sister Chris Sires and her three adult children, Yvette and family, Jason and family and Beau and family. Also in the Stevensville area, he visited his nephew Taylor Graves.

Dream On

Dream Big

Okay, TV viewers, what has the week provided for entertainment? Are you the one in a million that has learned how to cast a vote online? Are you the young person, old timer, music lover or just curious as what all the fuss is about on American Idol? Clarksville, Iowa, is not too far from Dike, and I am wondering if any Maddie Poppe fans from town attended the concert? Maddie Poppe is making a great splash in Iowa and around the country, so let's hear what some of you Dike folks have to say about your experience in Clarksville. Good luck, Maddie Poppe, and dream on.

What about dreaming big? Once again, TV viewers were all eyes on the wedding of Prince Harry. Is it your dream to have a big wedding? Get all the best ideas from the gal that made a million views drool over simplicity and perfection.

It all starts with the dress, the veil, the train and the tiara. It was a dream wedding for Meghan Markle that we all wanted to watch from start to finish. If you missed some parts of the event, all you had to do was tune back in and find any favorite part again. It was a dream wedding and so many of us, me included, always want the best for these two boys now grown to charming me, always wishing their mother, Lady Diana, was by their side taking part in their journey of life.

Happy to be me, I can't sing like Maddie, and I'm not as beautiful as Meghan, but they gave me something to write about and you something to dream about. So dream big!

With appropriate identification, an eligible elector may also register to vote on election day in the precinct where the person lives.

Voters are required to provide an approved form of identification at the polling place before they may receive and cast a ballot. Pre-registered voters who are unable to show an approved ID may sign an oath of identification for an election held in 2018. Voters who are not pre-registered or who have changed precincts also may be required to provide proof of residence. Any voter who cannot show ID may have their identity attested to by another registered voter in the precinct who has proper ID. Voter Accessibility: All voting sites are fully accessible to persons with physical disabilities. Each site also has a voter assist ballot marking device that allows persons with disabilities to vote independently. This device allows voters to make their selections using an audio read-back and touchpad, or touchscreen. The touch-screen option provides magnification and reverse black and white images. Voters unable to see the screen may have the screen turned off and use only the audio read-back and touchpad features. The audio read-back feature provides all ballot instructions, choices, and selections in an audio format using headphones. After making selections with the ballot marking device, via touchpad or touchscreen, the device will mark the voter's paper ballot and the voter will insert their marked ballot in the regular ballot tabulator used for all other ballots.

Voters may also choose another person to assist them to vote, except their employer, employer's agent, or an officer or agent of the voter's union.

Any voter who is physically unable to enter a polling place has the right to vote in the voter's vehicle.

ANSWERS:

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

The Dike-New Hartford boys golf team poses with its state qualifier banner after finishing as a runner-up at its home district meet in Dike. The Wolverines qualified for state as a team for the first time in school history. (Rob Maharry/The Grundy Register)

D-NH boys secure first team state berth in school history

By ROBERT MAHARRY
The Grundy Register

DIKE - On the final hole at his final home meet and what could've been the end of his high school golf career, Dike-New Hartford senior Bo Weissenfluh needed to come up big for his teammates. He'd hunkered down, locked in and shot two under par on the back nine before launching a second stroke chip on the par four hole from over 150 yards away. It landed three feet from the pin.

"I just felt like I was in a different zone than what I was on the front nine," he said.

With that birdie and a stellar all-around performance, Weissenfluh paced the senior-heavy Wolverines—and the field at large—with an 18-hole score of 72 as he earned medalist honors and propelled the school to its first state tournament berth ever. D-NH finished with a team score of 322, which was good for second place and just a stroke behind district champion Roland-Story at Fox Ridge on Friday afternoon.

"Right from the very beginning of the year, I knew this team had a chance. It was just whether we could get through it," head coach Tim Kopriva said.

Fellow senior Ben Freese, normally the number two golfer, broke his hand last Tuesday and finished with an 87, but he was still glad to be on the course alongside his teammates with a chance to move on to Marshalltown.

"He gutted it out, and he tried," Kopriva said of Freese. "That's how much he wanted to play."

And for a group of guys who'd been together since elementary school, Freese felt he owed it to them.

"I knew that if I had to battle through it for the team, I was going to do it no matter what," he said. "This was our only chance to go, and now that we made it, it was well worth it... It hurt, but it was worth it."

Chase Wilson (80), Colton Harberts (84), Kaleb Kinskey (86), Nathan Kreigermier (86) and Freese rounded out the scoring for the Wolverines, who were all smiles in the clubhouse after the final tallies were read. Even Weissenfluh, known for his stoic demeanor throughout the season, broke into a grin.

"He's the most consistent high school golfer I think I've ever coached. Match in, match out, he's just right around par," Kopriva said. "He's changed that. He used to get a little flustered... This year, he's toned it down, and he's just a stud."

Because D-NH qualified on its home course, third place Clarion-Goldfield will also advance to state after finishing with a 326, and New Hampton (328), Denver (331), North Fayette Valley (332) and South Hamilton (349) rounded out the team scoring. Aplington-Parkersburg's Dylan Ellis (75) and Osage's Drew Olson (74) advanced to state as individuals.

All of the Wolverines on the varsity squad except for Harberts are seniors, and they'll make the trek down Highway 14 for the first and last time Friday to compete at the American Legion course in Marshalltown. The delay will give Freese a bit of time to heal his ailing hand, but he isn't under any illusion that he'll be back at full strength by the time he tees off.

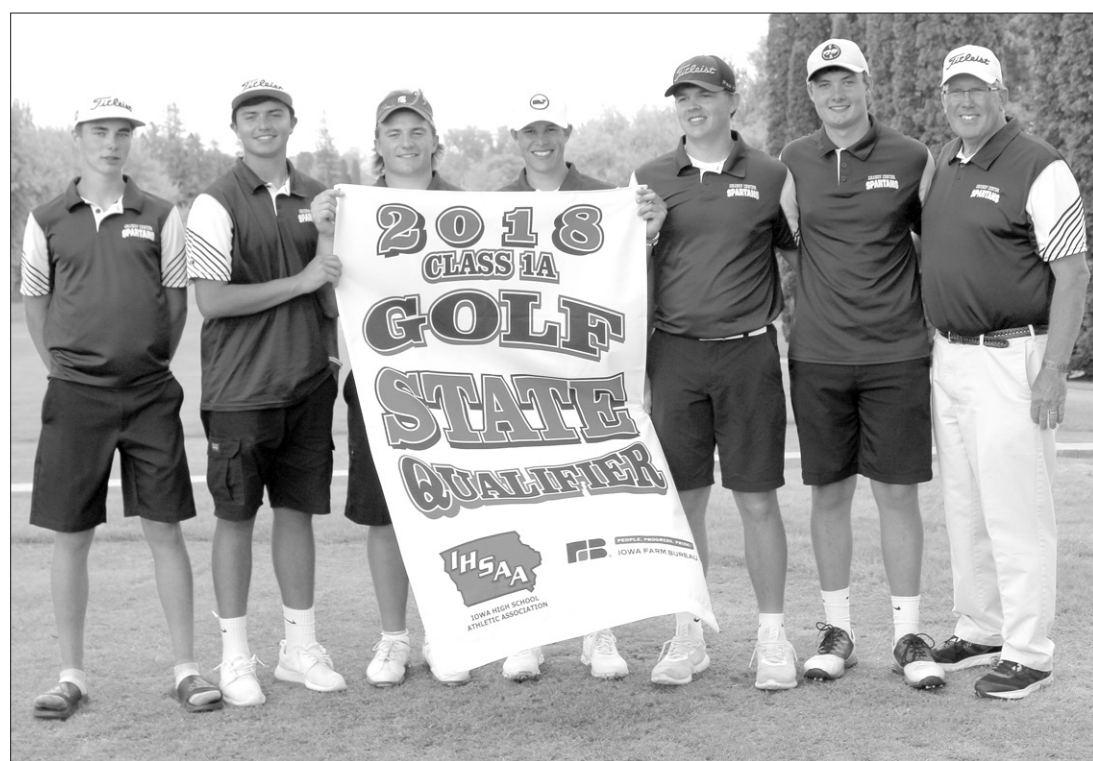

"Oh no, I'll still be playing with this (brace) on, but I'm not too worried about it," he said. "It's very special just being together all 13 years and in school together—and finally getting something done."

Spartan boys return to state

AGWSR's Hames qualifies as individual

By JAKE RYDER
The Grundy Register

NASHUA - The Grundy Center boys golf team won a Class 1A district meet in Nashua on Friday afternoon to return to the state tournament later this week.

The Spartans shot 324 as a team, 17 strokes clear of runner up Bishop Garrigan of Algona, led by individual runner-up Jake Bangasser's 75. Grundy Center will be making its ninth appearance at the state meet in the last 10 seasons.

Joining Grundy Center at this week's state tournament in Newton is AGWSR junior Alex Hames, advancing as one of two individuals from non-qualifying teams with a 79. Meet medalist Austin Eckenrod of Mason City Newman was the other individual state qualifier after shooting a 72. This will be Hames' second state appearance—his first came as a freshman on AGWSR's state-qualifying team in 2016.

The Spartans added top-ten individual finishes from Matthew Sternhagen shooting an 80 for sixth place and Andy Cox placing eighth with an 81. Nolan Freeman rounded out Grundy Center's scoring with an 88 and Travis Kuester and Tanner Appel contributed a 90 and 95, respectively.

With five golfers back on the course from the Spartans' fourth-place finish at state last season—Kuester will be the only first-timer on the course in Newton—Spartans head coach Dennis Dirks said the Grundy Center boys were on a mission to return to the state tournament.

Dirks noted the Spartans also approached postseason play with a focused mindset: "There are no guarantees or second chances when it comes to post-season play, only weekly challenges where, if you perform well enough, can turn into another new opportunity."

That mental focus has once again paid dividends, and could certainly mean good things to come for such an experienced group. Bangasser in particular will be making his fourth trip to state in his final tournament with the Spartans before joining Iowa Western's men's golf team.

"Stepping on the course knowing what to expect, how the tournament is run, with players who are well aware of how to handle the pressure of tournament play is huge," Dirks said.

BCLUW finished sixth as a team with a 359. Lane Stanley and Brad Barkema each shot 89 to lead the Comets, with Jonny Neff shooting a 90 and Keegan Rhinehart carding a 91.

Gladbrook-Reinbeck was 10th in the 11-team field, led by Matt Johannsen's 89. Walker Thede shot 93, Mason Skovgard contributed a 97 and Tyson Creswell chipped in a 105.

The 1A state tournament begins at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, May 24 at Westwood Golf Course in Newton, followed by an 8 a.m. start on Friday.

Tennis titans Wahlert down Spartans

DUBUQUE - Tennis powerhouse Dubuque Wahlert ended Grundy Center's season in a boys tennis substate final in Dubuque on Saturday morning.

The Spartans fell 5-1, with Sage Klar ending his high school career at Grundy Center with a three-set victory over Wahlert's No. 1 Jack Lucy. Klar will join the Loras tennis program this fall.

But the Eagles, tied with Camanche for the most team tennis titles in Iowa history with nine championships, overpowered Grundy Center the rest of the way. Wahlert went on to take down the defending 1A state champs Cedar Rapids Xavier in the state quarterfinals later that day.

The loss brought the end of the line for four Grundy Center seniors - Klar, Tjaden Meester, Garret Weldon and Aaron Havens - who contributed to a second-consecutive substate final appearance for the Spartans program.

Spartan girls 2nd at NACL tennis tourney

WATERLOO - The Grundy Center girls tennis team finished second at the North Iowa Cedar League tournament at the Byrnes Park Tennis Center in Waterloo on Monday, May 14.

The Spartans scored 34 advancement points, trailing only conference champion Waterloo Columbus with 54 points. Dike-New Hartford was third in the six-team field with 28.5 points.

D-NH's Weber to return to girls state golf

GARNER - Dike-New Hartford sophomore Morgan Weber shot an 82 in Garner on Monday to finish sixth overall and advance to the Class 2A state girls golf tournament.

The 2A tournament tees off on Tuesday in Panora.

Dike-New Hartford finished third as a team with a 379, 22 strokes behind the last state-qualifying team spot held by runner-up Okoboji with a 357. New Hampton shot 339 as Garner regional champions.

Katie Knock had a top-ten individual finish with a 94. Sydney Lage shot 101, Avery Coulter shot 102 and Alysa Fettkether carded a 120.

Aplington-Parkersburg's Jaycie Ellis shot a 105 to finish 24th overall.

Talent by the busload

Grundy Center ends on high note at state with hardware in tow

By JAKE RYDER

The Grundy Register

DES MOINES — The Grundy Center boys track and field team looked promising earlier in the spring but head coach Chris Conger felt that the boys were capable of going even bigger.

"I had to bark at them a bit in practice," Conger said. "I told them we all have legitimate opportunities and that we just have to seize that opportunity."

Conger then uttered a line that became a defining characteristic of the Spartans' team motivation.

"I don't want to drive a van, I want a dang bus full. ... It was the best practice we had all year."

After a successful spring, the Grundy Center boys qualified for state in 11 events, in addition to five events for the Grundy Center girls.

"They remembered that day," Conger said. "The first thing they said was, 'Conger, better get the bus ready.'"

In all, three boys events and three girls events earned top-8 finishes for the Spartans, and another year of experience for many who will come back next year looking to fill the bus once again.

The boys medalists started with Jordan Hook on Thursday in the 1A shot put, finishing his season strong with a fourth-place finish on a best throw of 51 feet, 6.5 inches.

The Grundy Center senior and UNI football commit never had track and field click until this season, when head coach Chris Conger convinced Hook to give it another shot after not coming out for track and field in his junior season.

Once Hook found success in putting his 6-foot-4 frame to use in the shot put ring, he went all in.

While he admitted he wishes he could've done better, he said this season helped him understand his capabilities.

"It was our conference meet, once I hit that 50[-foot] mark and threw a 53 but scratched stepping outside of the ring," Hook said. "When I threw that out there I knew what I was capable of, and it's just a mental thing of staying confident."

Hook reached the finals with a 49 feet, 3.5 inch throw in the second flight and landed a 50-9.5 and 51-6.5 back-to-back to power himself into the top half of the medal standings.

The Spartan boys picked up their final two medals on the last day of the meet, with Will Grames breaking a school record in the 200-meter dash with a 22.83 for fourth place in the finals. Grames kept himself warm during a two-hour-plus rain delay prior to his competition by jogging on an indoor track where the athletes were taking shelter from the storm.

"That time is more than I expected," Grames said. "[The delay] didn't affect me that much. ... I'm pretty happy right now."

Not too long after, Grames was right back in on the opening leg of the Grundy Center 4x400 relay team. The quartet of Grames, Adam Kaufman, Jensen Clapp and Caleb Kuiper had already set a school record qualifying for Saturday's finals but broke that mark on Saturday, running 3:29.38 for sixth place in the last event of the day.

"We were pretty fired up," Clapp said of setting the initial record on Friday. "We didn't think about it at all but once we realized we had it we were super pumped."

Kaufman is the only senior in that quartet, with the other three expected to come back next spring.

Grundy Center's Drew Rathe clears a hurdle in the 1A shuttle hurdle prelims at the state meet in Des Moines on Thursday.

"I really wish them the best," Kaufman said. "I want that record broken again next year."

Kuiper, who brought home the anchor leg, admitted the competition was tough on his leg.

"There's a lot of fast dudes out there," Kuiper, a junior, said. "I've been working on my form a lot more and I'm not really where I want it to be. I felt really strong but just couldn't bring it in. I'm still happy where we ended up thanks to these guys."

When reminded of Conger's "bus" comment, Kuiper acknowledges the power it carried.

"It's like a lightbulb moment," Kuiper said. "We realized that we're really gonna make some noise down there, we're gonna bring so many boys down there and so many ladies down there and we're gonna kick some butt."

The girls held up their end of the bargain, starting with a second-consecutive medal in the long jump for Kyah Luhring as she finished fifth with her best leap landing at 16 feet, 10.75 inches, eight inches farther than her third-place finish at last year's meet.

"I just wanted to make sure I hit the board," Luhring said. "I knew that there were a lot of good jumpers in both flights, and whatever jump I had to go reach I had to get it."

The quartet of Kyah Luhring, older sister Landry Luhring, Brooke Flater and Hailey Wallis qualified for the 4x400 finals on Saturday and were able to start and finish their day on the Blue Oval after starting Saturday morning with an eighth-place finish in the sprint medley relay in 1:53.69. The girls ended the day with a seventh-place run in the 4x400, finishing in 4:13.62.

"I got to the 100 mark and saw a girl sneaking up on me and thought, 'Oh, no,'" Wallis said, "and I just tried going hard to the end."

"Some people only dream of coming here one time, and it's just really great and I'm so blessed to be able to do this with these girls."

"That's a challenge for him," Conger said. "You can't really focus on one event over the other.

... Overall it was a good day but a juggling act." ... Sawyer Bowen joined Rathe in the high jump, finishing 17th after also clearing 5-9. ... Caleb Kuiper was 20th in the open 400 in 53.59. ... Hailey Wallis was 14th in the girls 100 prelims in 13.15. ... Derek Ciddio ran 10:23.79 for 15th in the 3,200 on Thursday and was 15th again in the 1,600 on the final day in 4:44.23. ... ## GCGR boys rally past Cadets

REINBECK — Walker Thede scored a hat trick in the Grundy Center/Gladbrook-Reinbeck boys soccer team's regular-season finale victory over Iowa Falls-Alden/AGWSR, 5-2, in Reinbeck on Monday, May 14.

Thede increased his team-leading scoring total to 14 goals as the Rebels improved to 8-4 overall. Eli Thede added a pair of goals.

Distributing an assist each were Adam Hoy, Jackson Kiburis and Mason Skovgard.

The Rebels trailed 2-0 after Luke Rubow and Levi Henderson goals in the first half, but GCGR answered with three goals before halftime and padded their lead in the second half.

GCGR goalkeeper Bryce Schick made six saves for the Rebels.

IF-A/AGWSR dropped to 6-9 overall.

The Grundy Register

DES MOINES — AGWSR sophomore Ali Gerbracht handed off the baton to Aubrie Fisher for the final leg of Thursday's 4x800 1A state championship race with the Cougars running fourth.

Not even two hours had passed since Fisher's first race, a hard-fought fifth-place finish in the 3,000 that required a kick in the final 50 meters. Gerbracht said she figured that there wasn't much more Fisher could do to improve the Cougars' standing.

But then again...

"Well, this is Aubrie Fisher," Gerbracht said. "She can do almost anything."

Sure enough, Fisher found that next gear and delivered the Cougars' a runner-up finish in the 3,200-meter relay in 10:06.82.

Central Elkader won the race in 10:02.02. The finish for the quartet of Mandy Willems, Haley Bakker, Gerbracht and Fisher bested a sixth-place finish for AGWSR in last season's 4x800 state race.

"I knew I had something to work for," Fisher said. "I had to be mentally strong. ... It's great to get that high of a place because it shows that these girls worked hard and it paid off."

Gerbracht acknowledged what it meant to be one of the new members on the quartet a year after the sixth-place team.

"You knew how much potential they had," Gerbracht said of Bakker and Fisher. "We wanted to meet that and get us where we're at today. ... It doesn't seem real. We knew we wanted to be up here but never thought we'd be second place."

Thursday was also a send-off for Willems and Bakker as their unique whirlwind state experiences come to a close.

"I felt good," Bakker said. "It was really exciting to see Aubrie catching her at the end. ... Second place is excellent."

Fisher held off Kee's Katie Brennan at the finish line in the 3,000 earlier in the morning to earn her first medal of the day in a fifth-place finish in 11:00.25. Bedford's Emma Lucas won the race in 10:04.31.

"I didn't know if I could hold her off," Fisher said. "You need to stay mentally tough, that heat gets to you, makes you think you're more tired than you are."

Fisher finished with four total medals, adding a sixth-place run in the open 800 in 2:22.04 and a fourth-place finish in the 1,500 in 4:54.29. She now has 10 total medals in three trips to the Blue Oval as she closed out her junior season.

"I've just got to keep getting faster because everyone every year people get a lot faster," Fisher said. "I need to make sure I keep working hard over the summer, so I can improve right along with the rest of them."

Katelyn Pfaltzgraff placed 18th in the girls 400 hurdles in 1:11.96 in her state debut. Liam Stubbe finished 11th in the 400 hurdles in 56.41 for the Cougar boys. Alec Stahl was 12th in the open 800 in 2:01.60 and the distance medley team of Luke Starr, Chase Harms, Stubbe and Stahl placed 19th in 3:45.30.

BCLUW send Penicks off at Blue Oval

Les and Theresa Penick announced earlier this track season that it would be their final spring as the track coaches for the BCLUW boys and girls teams, and the Comets helped to send them off with 12 events at the state meet.

The Comet boys delivered five state medals, including four total for standout junior Jack Garber.

Young Wolverines break through in distance medley, hopeful for future

By JAKE RYDER

The Grundy Register

DES MOINES — After the first day of the state track and field meet, it appeared that the Dike-New Hartford boys were maybe a year away from returning to the level of the 2017 team that finished tied for fifth in the 2A team standings.

Turned out the Wolverines just needed a day to really get it going.

D-NH added two more medals to Parker Kiewiet's fourth-place performance in the long jump on Day 1 for a good showing in Des Moines, closing it out with a fifth-place finish in the distance medley relay on Friday.

Tyler Miller, Grant Bixby, Kiewiet and Ryan Moore finished in 3:37.09. In the high jump, D-NH's Dane Fuller ended his freshman season in a tie for eighth after clearing 6-1.

After missing out on the finals in the shuttle hurdle relay and coming up about a second short of a state medal in the 4x800, Moore said the Wolverines were better prepared for Friday's race.

"We'd been focusing on this race, we knew we had to do something different to get this medal," Moore said. "Especially for Tyler Miller. He's a senior and this is his first time down here, he's been working hard every day on the track to get down here."

The Wolverines were seeded seventh in the event, improving on their seed time by more than five seconds for a new season best.

"We had some great hand-offs," Miller said. "I felt like I had a great start and I was catching people I could see and got a wonderful handoff to Grant Bixby."

Bixby added, "It's better than we hoped for. ... Drake Stadium, we always run our best times here."

It was the second medal of the weekend for Kiewiet, the D-NH sophomore whose 21-8 leap in the long jump was good for a top-four finish. Kiewiet was fifth at this year's Drake Relays as well.

Miles Rupiper won the 2A state title with a top leap of 22 feet, 1 inch.

Just as he had in all three attempts last season at state, Kiewiet scratched on his first two attempts in the second flight.

"I was getting more speed than I thought I would," Kiewiet said of the early faults. "I had to make my adjustments and just have confidence in myself and have my dad and coach there telling me how I should scoot back and just trying to coach myself through the prelims."

But then he unleashed his best jump of the day with his third and final jump, which led all jumpers heading into the finals.

"I've changed from being not that good to being top 5 in the class and the state," Kiewiet said. "It's exhilarating."

Notes: The shuttle hurdle team of Bixby, Ely Sohn, Seth Eden and Cade Fuller finished 12th in the prelims in 1:01.20, about 0.70 seconds behind the last qualifying spot of the top 8 finalists. ... Kiewiet, Drew Sonnenberg, Conlee Lyons and Moore finished ninth in the 4x800 in 8:23.82, just over a second out of a state medal. All four are expected to return next season. "For sure you'll see us back down here next season doing bigger, better things," Moore said.

D-NH girls collect state experience

A talented senior class mixed well with some exciting newcomers for the Wolverine girls, though D-NH came up short of bringing home state hardware.

The Wolverines' best finish came in the 4x200 relay, with Josie Claude, Margaret Nielsen, Madison Hedges and Eden Barrett running 11th in 1:48.71.

Freshman Jady Bennett were 18th in the 400 finals in 1:03.33. Alana Barrett, Margaret Nielsen, Courtney Bolhuis and Baylee Petersen were 22nd in the distance medley in 4:33.27.

Claude, Alana Barrett, Hedges and Eden Barrett were 23rd in the 4x100 prelims in 52.33.

Spartan girls tennis competes at Waterloo regional

By JAKE RYDER
The Grundy Register

WATERLOO – The Grundy Center girls tennis team completed what was a turnaround season for the Spartans in a regional singles/doubles tournament in Waterloo at the Byrnes Park Tennis Center.

The Spartans did not get any individuals or doubles teams through to the state tournament, but their progress against tough teams from Independence and Waterloo Columbus was evident compared to last season.

Amber Laube and Reegan Zinkula reached the quarterfinals before bowing out to the Sailors duo of Elyse Trout and Bella Fain, 6-2, 6-1.

"I think Amber and Reegs played about as good as they could playing against Columbus," Grundy Center head coach Joel Johnson said. "They're extremely good and they put pressure on you, if you have a second serve you have to hit a winner because they'll return almost anything."

Emerson Kracht and Erika Johnson tried to battle for a third set against Heidi Lau and Kylie Coonrad but fell 6-1, 6-5 in a first-round match.

"I think our doubles teams improved a lot from the way they started the year," Johnson continued. "They played with class, dignity and integrity."

Leslie Homeister was downed by Grace Sullivan of Columbus in the first-round, 6-1, 6-0 and Whitney Laube fell in straight sets to Carrie O'Connor of Dike-New Hartford.

GC coach Joel Johnson had to move his lineup around as Wednesday's tournament conflicted with Grundy Center's senior day, and Johnson said he understood completely that two of his three seniors, Emily Ehlig and Hannah Stahl, opted to take part in that instead of play in the tournament where only the champion and runner-up from the respective two brackets move on to state.

Amber, a Wartburg signee, is the other senior, and Johnson said all three will be tough to replace.

But Johnson will also have Zinkula back, his daughter Erika, Leslie Homeister and Emerson Kracht back from the varsity lineup.

"Leslie's got a good shot at being No. 1 next year," Johnson said. "Reegan and Erika, this will be their third year of tennis. ... [Emerson] is a great athlete, great kid to have on the team, the volleyball and tennis serve aren't that much different."

Johnson looks forward to bringing Whitney Laube, Amber's younger sister, more into the fold next year along with junior-to-be Alivia Brandhorst.

"The girls feel very confident," Johnson said. "I'm not going to ask much of them, I know they play other sports but with a little work this offseason and development, I think the girls are really starting to understand and our service game is 100 percent better. ... I'm excited about next year already."

Experience gained for D-NH girls

The Dike-New Hartford girls tennis team got a lot of varsity experience in a short amount of time.

The Wolverines stuck through some early woes to finish the season strong at the singles/doubles regional tournament in Waterloo last Wednesday.

Carrie O'Connor and the doubles team of Sydney Latwesen and Audrey Rickert both won their first-round matches. O'Connor defeated Grundy Center's Whitney Laube, 6-0, 6-0; Latwesen and Rickert knocked out the Iowa Falls team of Olivia Butt and Karsyn Stalzer, also by a 6-0, 6-0 score.

O'Connor, a senior, bowed out in a tough three-set loss to Independence's Abby Davis, and Megan Brock and Marina Meyer of Independence knocked out Latwesen/Rickert 6-2, 6-2.

"I'm so pleased with the progress [Carrie] made," D-NH coach Brett Froyen said. "She lost to her earlier this year 5-8 and to come out and win the first set and keep the match close the entire time, in the end she put herself in position to win the match. ... She was playing some of her best tennis.

"[Sydney and Audrey] didn't start out as varsity players but they got woven in and got to experience this meet today and conference on Monday, and they'll be ready for next year now that they've been through a year on varsity."

After losing their first four meets, D-NH won six duals in a row and finished with a 6-5 overall record.

"People started gaining confidence as the season went on," Froyen said. "We were peaking when we wanted to peak."

State track

"All out for Coach P," Logan Mann said. "The confidence that he gives us to do what we do, he's been great for us."

The first medal came in the 400 hurdles as Jack Garber took sixth in 55.77, but by the end of Friday the Comets had qualified for three finals in the shuttle hurdle, 110 hurdles and 4x100 relay.

That set up a wild Saturday, where the BCLUW sprint medley team of Ben Paper, Mann, Garber, and Troy Dolphin finished fifth in 1:36.07. Just over two hours later, Coby Willett, Koby Kruse, Connor Thompson and Garber took seventh in the shuttle hurdle finals in 1:01.73.

An hour later Garber went out for the 110 high hurdle finals and finished third in 14.79.

Then came a two-hour delay for storms in the area. BCLUW stayed fresh though, and finished seventh in the 4x100 finals in 45.59 with the quartet of Paper, Thompson, Mann and Dolphin.

"I think we did pretty well today," said Thompson, one of three seniors on that 4x100 relay squad with Paper being the only junior. "The delay did kinda suck, time consuming, but I'll definitely miss this. Overall, we did pretty well, so I'm proud."

In spite of earning four medals, Garber had a higher goal—to win a 110 high hurdle championship.

"My biggest motivator is not being No. 1," Garber said on Friday after he had qualified for the 110 hurdles finals.

He was the top qualifier out of the prelims with a 14.83 but his third-place finish in 14.79, tying him with his older brother Will's school record for the fourth time this season, left him visibly disappointed.

On Saturday after the 110 finals, he posted on his Twitter: "Disappointed is an understatement."

As several BCLUW seniors move on, Paper notes that even if everyone didn't hit their ultimate goals, the weekend was a testament to Coach Penick's success as a coach.

"This team is your family," Paper said. "He brought together a team of remarkable Comets, and it's a great family. ... I'm going to miss these boys with all my heart and we're gonna have some big shoes to fill. I'm gonna miss Coach Penick as well."

BCLUW's Caleb Silver was 23rd in the 3,200 in 11:07.53. Thompson, Greg Schmitt, Neifer Ralston and Mann finished 22nd in the 4x400 prelims on Friday in 3:37.83. Mann, Schmitt, Thompson and Dolphin placed 14th in the 4x200 in 1:33.68.

For the BCLUW girls, all five athletes who competed over the weekend will return next season under a new head coach after gaining state experience.

Kiersten Kruse, Payton Peckarek, Lizzie Garber and Olivia Hughes were 10th in the shuttle hurdle prelims in 1:11.16 and 24th in the 4x100 prelims in 53.70. Lizzie Garber also placed 11th in the 100 hurdle prelims in 16.53. Finally, Erin Asche was 22nd in the girls shot put in 32-7.75.

G-R's Ehlers returns to state meet

Rebels junior Lily Ehlers made her second trip to the Blue Oval in the 3,000 and 1,500. She was 19th in the 3,000 in 11:48.95 and ran 16th in the 1,500 in 5:15.09. Ehlers was 16th in the 3,000 last season and 21st in the 800 in her sophomore season.

Gretillat, Schick deliver in Rebel substate shootout squeaker

By JAKE RYDER
The Grundy Register
DENVER – Jon Dinsdale wouldn't have picked Seth Gretillat to take the shot in a penalty kick shootout.

But the Grundy Center/Gladbrook-Reinbeck head coach had already gone through his five hand-chosen players in a tight shootout with Denver on Monday, and he put the rest in the hands of his players.

When he saw who his Rebels sent out there, he put their fate in the hands of God.

"They send one of our youngest ones out there first as the sixth guy," Dinsdale said of sophomore Cullen Eiffler. "And then Seth who had never kicked a PK because he's known for kicking it over the goal."

Ye of little faith. Gretillat buried the game-winner in what Dinsdale admitted was the "perfect spot" to beat Denver goalkeeper Bo McMahon, and the Rebels survived in a substate opener in Denver as 1-0 winners after a 7-6 margin in the penalty kick shootout.

GCGR (9-4) will play at 1A No. 12 in Nevada (10-7) on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in a 1A substate semifinal.

Eli Thede, Walker Thede, Mason Skovgard, Caden Kickbush, Eiffler and Bronson Wrage all scored on their PKs to set up Gretillat's game-winner.

Even if he would've been choosier about his penalty kick shooters, Dinsdale can't deny the grit of Gretillat, one of the 10 seniors on the team that didn't want to go home empty-handed on Monday.

"They put it as a mission to make it to the next round, the next round, and then on to state," Dinsdale said. "They've learned what they need to accomplish to get on that winning side ... they've been through a lot these last four years, and they didn't want to be done tonight, and it was a question of how much are you willing to give? They laid it on the line."

Another senior, Bryce Schick, was in goal for the shootout and made two clutch saves.

The first was off Denver's Connor Corday, a shot which Schick admitted he mistimed. Perhaps in a case of divine intervention, Corday's strike deflected off Schick's foot and away from the goal.

"That was a little bit shocking for sure," Schick said. "When I saw it went off my foot, I was pumped."

In the end, it came down to an unconventional showdown between Denver goalkeeper Bo McMahon taking a shot at Schick. This time Schick was ready and timed a punchout.

"That happened to be a perfect moment," Schick said. "Perfect spot, perfect time, got it off the hands."

The rest was history off the foot of Gretillat.

"I didn't hear anything at all, all I focused on was that goal," Gretillat said. "It was going right where I wanted it to."

The game went to a shootout after 100 minutes of fast-paced, athletic action that was mostly controlled by GCGR, but not without some heart-stopping scoring chances for the Cyclones. Denver had defeated GCGR 2-1 earlier in the season and was leading the Rebels near halftime of a game in Reinbeck canceled due to storms.

"We switched a few things up since then," Gretillat said. "Knew what they liked to do, knew who their good players were and marked them up."

Last season's Rebels team had its earliest exit for this year's senior class with a loss in the substate final.

"After how we've done in our high school career, we wouldn't have known how to feel losing the first game," Gretillat said.

Schick added, "I owe this entire game to my teammates. They played their entire hearts out."
